Latest Break-Through By Japs Nipped Off By U. S. Forces

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30—The navy announced today that U. S. motor torpedo boats damaged a Japanese destroyer in the Guadalcanal area, while American planes blasted nearby Japanese positions and ground forces skirmished with enemy patrols on the island.

(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—Attacking in relays, Japanese ground forces on Guadalcanal today were attempting to wear down already fatigued U. S. marines and army troops who, nevertheless, have nipped off two enemy s[illegible]heads that succeeded in puncturing U. S. lines around the airfield.

Latest front line reports indicated that the Nipponese on Guadalcanal were using the same tactics employed on Bataan—where they attacked again and again until they overwhelmed exhausted American and Filippino forces.

U. S. Forces Hold Fast

The latest communique which reported the second enemy breakthrough on Guadalcanal also disclosed that the American forces still were a match for the Nipponese despite lack of sleep and repeated shelling and bombing attacks during the past few weeks.

Vichy Government Protests Air Raids

BULLETIN
(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—The Vichy government of France has delivered a strong new protest to the United States and Great Britain over the allied raids on French territory, it was learned on reliable authority today.

Vichy's protest to this government was delivered to Undersecretary of State Sumner Welles by French Ambassador Gaston Henry-Haye.

The protest to Great Britain was delivered by the French ambassador in Madrid to the British envoy there, Sir Samuel Hoare.

In its protest to the United States the Vichy government vigorously condemned what it alleged was the machine gunning of civilians in the streets of unoccupied France by British planes returning from the recent raids on Italy.

While the protest was couched in strong terms, it was not expected to precipitate any new crisis in Franco-American relations. It was seen as chiefly a matter for the record as far as Vichy was concerned.

LONDON, Oct. 30.—The Red army has checked the frantic German attempt to break through Russian defenses in the Mozdok area of the mid-Caucasus, the Moscow radio said today.

"Soviet units now are in possesion of all dominating heights in the battle area," the radio bulletin said.

Moscow, Oct. 30.—Red army forces counter-attacking south of beleaguered Stalingrad were reported today to have driven the Germans from the outskirts of an important settlement.

After capturing positions in the suburbs the Russians beat off all Nazi counter-attacks to regain the territory, dispatches from the front said.

By that one-vote margin the court of appeals upheld the conviction of Buchalter, Emanuel Weiss and Louis Capone in the slaying of Joseph Rosen, Brooklyn candy store owner. Weiss and Capone were the actual killers but committed the crime on orders from the feared Lepke.

Freak Tornado Hits Arkansas

Estimate 25 Dead And 100 Injured In Storm In Northwestern Arkansas

STORM DEVELOPS IN QUICK ORDER

(International News Service)

BERRYVILLE, Ark., Oct. 30.—An estimated 25 persons were killed and 100 injured in a freak tornado which struck this town of 2,500 population in northwestern Kansas, Sheriff Oscar Hamplin of Carroll county said today.

The tornado dipped down and hit Berryville, smashing more than 100 buildings and throwing the community into near-panic, about 10 o'clock last night. It was all over in 15 minutes, the sheriff said.

He had no reports of the tornado hitting in other localities.

Red Cross workers were rushed to the scene from nearby cities.

The tornado put the electric lighting system out of commission, throwing the town into complete darkness and making most difficult the task of the rescue workers.

With lanterns and improvised lights, the rescuers dug under great piles of the debris of demolished buildings in search of additional victims, dead or injured.

Tuesday Will Decide State Election Battles

Concluding a campaign that was conspicuous by its absence of great interest, New Castle and Lawrence county voters, or part of them at least, will go to the polls Tuesday, November 3, and cast their ballots for a governor, a lieutenant-governor, a judge of the supreme court, a judge of the superior court, a secretary of internal affairs, a congressman-at-large, a congressman from the 26th district, and one general assemblyman each from New Castle and from the district in the county outside the city.

Campaign Unusual

Neither the Republican or Democratic parties have waged campaigns that usually mark a gubernatorial year. Part of the public apathy is due to the war no doubt and to the fact that many men are working hours that make it inconvenient to get to the polls.

The ballot this election is not a long one and should be fairly easy to compile after the polls close. Straight tickets are expected to predominate in the voting. A vote in the party square at the upper left hand of the ballot is a vote for all candidates upon that ticket. Voters may vote in the straight party space and then cast a vote for a candidate upon another ticket by marking an X after his name.

Stimson, Knox, Nelson Urge Citizens To Vote

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—Secretary of War Stimson, Secretary of Navy Knox and WPB Chairman Nelson today had stated that everyone, including war workers, should exercise his "solemn duty" and vote in next Tuesday's elections.

In a joint statement, the three high officials said:

"The right to vote is one of those great rights of free men for which this war is being fought. To exercise that right is the solemn duty of all American citizens—now, in the midst of this great emergency, more than ever before.

"In the great majority of cases it will be possible for war workers to arrange to visit the polls either before or after work. However, in exceptional cases this is not possible, arrangements should be made to permit the worker to vote. This will be one of the very rare exceptions to the general rule that nothing must be allowed to take workers out of war factories."

The statement said that "the duty to vote is paramount and by intelligent co-operation between management and workers the interruption to production can be held to a minimum."

Halloween Event In South Side Is Notable Success

War Bond Sales Are Joined With Annual Mummers Night Program

HUGE CROWD IN STREETS FOR EVENT

Two Local Survivors Of "Wasp" Urge Crowd To Buy More War Bonds

As civic affairs promoters, members of the South Side Board of Trade have few peers.

As a standout example, take last night's "Halloween Bond Victory Parade".

Despite the numerous encumberances brought about by the war, the south siders not only sponsored a mummers' show that lured well over 5,000 onlookers but also took a healthy sock at Hirohito, Mussolini and Hitler—$8,300 worth.

Buy War Bonds

Even before Judge W. Walter Braham took his place at the "mike" to deliver a forcible "buy bonds" talk, Postmaster William Hanna was swarmed with buyers, long before the designated "one hour" sale started.

One gent, whose name must remain in the anonymous bracket at his request, stepped to the front and bought three $1,000 bonds. Mrs. Christina DeGennaro, Scioto street, took the honor of purchasing the first bond.

For one hour following the parade, prices of bonds, up to $100, were slashed. The south siders paid 4 per cent of each bond sold during the 60 minutes.

Parade Smaller

While the parade was smaller than in past years, the mummers, more than 300 in number, didn't miss a trick. Keeping abreast of

New Problem Given Byrnes

Critical Man-Power Sore Spot Is Dropped Into Byrnes Lap

By EDWIN DARBY
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—Another paramount war problem—the critical manpower sore-spot—today was dropped into the lap of Economic Director James F. Byrnes.

After weeks of furious effort on stabilizing wages and salaries, Byrnes and his economic board, labor officials said, will now take a swing at the complex manpower problem, temporarily quieting a week-long fight that has stirred every agency in Washington.

Following a White House conference with labor it was clear that President Roosevelt will not sponsor any legislation on the subject until further study has been made. Labor sources believed that the job belongs to Byrnes.

Main Building At St. Francis College Burns

(International News Service)

LORETTO, Pa., Oct. 30.—Flames destroyed the ivy-covered "Old Main" building at St. Francis college early today as firemen from nearby Johnstown and nine volunteer companies futilely battled the fire.

The four-story brick building housed the college chapel, school rooms and dormitories. A number of boarding students and Franciscan instructors also slept in the structure, but no casualties were reported.

Although the fire in the main building was out of control before the firemen arrived, they succeeded in preventing the flames from spreading to other buildings.

The Rev. Father John P. M. Sullivan, T.O.R., president of the college, had his office and sleeping quarters in the structure.

Mrs. Roosevelt Visits Air Corps Men

Visits Station In Great Britain

Taken On Tour Of U. S. Army's 8th Air Force Station Thursday

DEEPLY IMPRESSED BY ALL WAR EFFORTS

By DIXIE TIGHE
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, Oct. 30.—American air corps men were still talking today over the unexpected visit of Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt to their station somewhere in England. She was hoisted into a bomber by willing hands, had tea at the officer's mess, and was taken on a tour of the U. S. Army's 8th air force station in the course of a busy afternoon.

Mrs. Roosevelt was thrilled by the inspection of the bomber, a Flying Fortress named Phylli, and a veteran of the raid on Lorient, France. After an unsuccessful attempt to try out the pilot's seat she said:

"I am convinced that I am too fat for aviation. I realize now that stout women over 50 are not cut out for military aviation."

In the station operations room Mrs. Roosevelt saw how the American raids on enemy territory are planned. She also saw the results of the raids in sheaves of "before and after" photographs taken over bombed territory by reconnaissance planes.

Luncheon

There was a luncheon at bomber command headquarters with Maj Gen. Ira C. Eaker, commander of the American squadrons. Among the guests was Mrs. Roosevelt's son, Lieut. Col. Elliott Roosevelt, and Sir Arthur Harris, chief of the RAF bomber command.

It was a renewal of an old acquaintance with Sir Arthur who has been a White House guest in Washington. He recalled the excellent scrambled eggs that had been served at the White House and apologized for not being able to whip up an omelette for Mrs. Roosevelt. But eggs are rare in wartime England.

"You shouldn't waste them on visitors," she replied.

In chatting with the air force officers Mrs. Roosevelt said she had been deeply impressed by the intensity and extent of Britain's wartime effort, and the important part played by women in military and industrial services.

"I do not believe America realizes how great are Britain's achievements," she declared.

When she returns to America, she added, she will urge the labor organizations to send young representatives to England to see what was going on so they could tell America about it.

But the manpower shortage isn't apparents when a new commission has a few thousands jobs to hand out.

and South Africa were continued throughout the batle area and behind the enemy lines.

The Allied fliers struck heavily at Axis landing grounds to knock out Nazi General Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's air units and pounded his supply bases.

Raid On Matruh

"A fighter raid on landing grounds in the Matruh area (the Egyptian port of Matruh) was particularly successful," the high command said.

"Three large grounded aircraft were destroyed and others damaged."

Gen. Alexander reported a slight increase in Axis air activity, during which four of Rommel's planes were destroyer.

The communique said that not a single Italian or German plane had cross the coast of the Mediterranean island base of Malta throughout yesterday although there was some activity by aircraft over the sea.

Another Axis tanker seeking to supply Rommel with much needed fuel was successfully attack in the central Mediterranean and an Axis merchant ship also suffered a direct hit, the communique said.

The assaults on enemy shipping were carried out by torpedo aircraft.

Only one British plane failed to return from operations reported in today's communique which referred to action occuring since Wednesday in the Egyptian desert and over the Mediterranean.

Dispatches from the battlefront said thas hundreds of Axis troops had been killed on the sands west of El Alamein when the Eighth Army beat back wave upon wave of Germans and Italians which sought to slow down the Allied advance.

The Axis counter-thrusts were repulsed by withering artillery and rifle fire from the British ranks and large numbers of Germans and Italians were taken prisoner.

directed by Robert A. Duff, Mrs. Roberts delivered her address of welcome.

Three Speakers

Three speakers were heard on the morning program. First was George E. Walk of Philadelphia, president of the PSEA who reminded the teachers of their responsibilities in the present war crisis. Professor Robert C. Pooley of the University of Wisconsin was the second speaker, his subject being "In Order To Form A More Perfect Union".

Conservation of natural resources was stressed by Prof. Pooley and in this respect he urged that all natural resources be taken over by the government and leased to private persons for development and use. The last speaker was Mrs. Willie Snow Ethridge of Prospect, Kentucky, an author who spoke on "One Song I Sing." The report of the committee on Resolutions followed.

One resolution that is before the convention today is that providing for the business of the convention to be done by a house of delegates instead of by the convention as a whole. This will probably pass.

Departmental Meetings

Departmental meetings will take up the afternoon hours and many luncheons and dinners of the departments are being held. Tonight the second general session will be held, with the public invited. The speaker tonight will be Andrew W. Cordier, professor of history in Manchester College, of Manchester, Indiana. His subject is "Current Trends in Latin America." The new officers will be introduced at the close of the convention.

In the dining room of the Cathedral is located the commercial exhibit with showings of school necessities, maps, art supplies, books, and the like. One display that is attracting attention is that of the art class of the senior high school. Some unusually fine pieces of work are on display.

The convention will close tonight.

in India today said that British Blenheim bombers attacked Japanese-held airdromes at Phakokku and Hwebo in Burma.

High explosives were smashed down upon the airdrome runways and buildings. Fires were started in the building areas.

The communique confirmed Monday's Japanese attack on Assam, in India. It was announced that an American fighter pilot destroyed one of the attacking planes, while British anti-aircraft fire dropped another.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30 — Damage to the German Baltic port of Luebeck in one of the earliest RAF mass raids was "ten times worse than that caused by the Germans in Warsaw after a week's bombings," the British radio declared today in a broadcast heard by CBS.

The statement was based on an article in a Swiss newspaper quoting an eyewitness who recently was in the ruined city. Although the raid occurred months ago, French war prisoners are still at work clearing away the debris, the Swiss visitor declared, according to the BBC.

LONDON, Oct. 30. — The Paris radio said today that Gaston Henri-Haye, Vichy ambassador to Washington, had made a strong protest to Acting Secretary of State Sumner Welles against Allied air attacks against France.

LONDON, Oct. 30.—Admiral Jean Francois Darlan has returned to Vichy from his inspection tour of Dakar and north African ports, the Vichy radio announced today, according to Reuter's. He attended a cabinet meeting immediately, said the Vichy announcement. The Nazi-controlled Paris radio, commenting on Darlan's quick air tour, said that French newspapers were satisfied that his trip "was not a pleasure tour," said Reuter's.

LOY RICKARD HONORED

As a farewell celebration for Loy Rickard, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Markey of the Mt. Jackson road entertained a host of friends on Wednesday evening, in his honor.

The time was spent informally with cards and other pastimes, and a delicious lunch was served to guests from Youngstown, Ellwood North Beaver Township and New Castle.

The honored guest received a number of personal farewell gifts.

JAP FORCES ARE SEEKING TO WEAR DOWN DEFENDERS

27) an enemy assault on our positions succeeded in piercing our lines," the communique said. "Army and marine corps troops successfully counter-attacked and our original positions were regained. Two additional enemy thrusts were repulsed."

It was obvious, however, that the American troops could not fight off such attacks indefinitely unless supplies and reinforcements arrived. Recent reports indicated that Nipponese warships dominated the waters around Guadalcanal.

No Further Sea-Action

There were no further reports of action at sea since the week-end naval-air battle northeast of Guadalcanal. The final outcome of this engagement may determine whether the outnumbered U. S. Pacific fleet units could supply the Guadalcanal garrison.

On Guadalcanal the Nipponese forces held one advantage—they could scatter through the mountains and jungles to rest after strong attacks, leaving smaller units to harass the American lines.

Meanwhile, the U. S. army and marine corps forces were pinned to the Henderson Field area where they were required to remain constantly on the alert against ground assaults on three sides as well as naval and aerial bombardments.

Not Desperate Yet

War analysts asserted, however that the American position on Guadalcanal would not become desperate until their airfield was knocked out or their planes were unable to take to the skies because of damage, destruction or lack of gas.

Latest reports from Australia showed that Gen. Douglas MacArthur's airmen still were attempting to relieve the pressure on U. S forces in the southern Solomons through repeated raids on Japanese shipping and positions. Flying Fortresses bombed four more Japanese ships at Buin in a new raid Thursday on the Japanese base in the northern Solomons.

That U. S. airmen still dominated the skies in the southern Solomons as late as last Monday (Washington date) was shown by the navy communique which reported two attacks against Jap positions on Guadalcanal and nearby Rekata Bay.

In a raid on Rekata, 115 miles northwest of Guadalcanal, U. S aircraft attacked shore installations and destroyed four seaplanes.

THE BALLOT: DEMOCRACY'S GLORY

THERE are no elections in Germany, Japan or Italy. Dictatorship has no room for ballot boxes.

There are no elections in the conquered countries of Europe now chained to the Nazi chariot wheels. The right to vote is just another one of the freedoms extinguished like a snuffed-out candle wherever Hitler has become master.

But there are elections in the United States. There is still the right of the franchise possessed by every American citizen. There is still the right to vote as we will on candidates and issues, without intimidation, without fear of reprisal.

The glory of the ballot remains one of our democracy's richest treasures.

Do we fully appreciate this blessing? Do we cherish the right of franchise? Do we exercise that right at the polls?

We can give the answer by our actions next Tuesday.

Of this we may be sure: there are few of the benefits of the American system of government that make a stronger appeal to oppressed peoples all over the world than our Constitutional guarantee of a free and secret ballot.

How the French and the Poles and the Greeks and the other enslaved people of Europe would glory in the privilege, in an open election, of voting their oppressors out of power, or even of expressing their opinion of them!

What excellent advantage would be taken of the right to vote by the masses of Germans and Italians who have come to hate their Fascist overlords, if that right were only, by some miracle, made available to them again, suggests the Philadelphia Inquirer.

It is those who are denied the blessing of freedom who appreciate it most. Deprival of the right to vote opens men's eyes to the importance of that right in preserving their individual liberty.

Because we have been able to vote on election day all our adult lives, we take it, at times, as a matter of course. We become apathetic about it, even weary and a bit annoyed. It going to the polls entails the slightest inconvenience, we are inclined to forget the whole thing.

Instead of an opportunity we should be proud to accept, we sometimes act as though voting were an irksome chore to be avoided.

Back of lamentable showing in recent elections, of course, is the common or garden-variety branch of indifference. In our hearts we know that the freedom of franchise is basic in our democratic system. If we felt that our right to vote was being challenged, we would be up in arms about it.

It so happens that it IS being challenged.

Should we lose the war, should our way of life be destroyed by the totalitarians, ballots would become as extinct as the dodo.

We are fighting this war to preserve our democracy and that means, in part, to keep the polling places open in every city, town and village in America on election day.

If we think so little of the franchise, of the power it gives us to work out our destiny as a nation in our own way, that we don't take the trouble to vote, what is the use of waging a war against the dictators who despise free elections?

We owe it to ourselves and to our country, we owe it to the persecuted peoples we hope to free from slavery, to pour out to the polls next Tuesday as a practical demonstration of the power and privilege of democracy.

We have the right to vote as we please. Let us exercise that right as free Americans.

Regardless of how you vote on Tuesday, for whatever candidates, for whatever party—VOTE!

A CUP A DAY

Coffee is an all but immemorial drink, which originated in the mist of centuries in what is now Ethiopia. From Africa, which has given other notable gifts to man, use of coffee spread around the world—first to Arabia and thence to Java, westward to the Caribbean islands and then throughout the tropics of this hemisphere.

Now two-thirds of the world's coffee is grown in Brazil, and the United States is Brazil's best customer. But transportation and other difficulties have combined to put Americans on a coffee ration.

The government intends to limit coffee sales to one pound each five weeks, or about a cup per diem, to persons 15 or over. In spite of OPA Chairman Henderson's figures suggesting that this does no more than reduce an annual per capita consumption of approximately 13 pounds to 10.4 pounds, the hardship on coffee drinkers, or at least confirmed ones, will be much greater than this statistic would indicate.

There is no basis of comparison between Mr. Henderson's 10.4 pounds per consumer and his 13 pounds average for the entire population because no one can know how much the average coffee drinker consumed in 1941 or 1942. To count in children and non-consumers to strike a norm or mean is deception.

Coffee starts out on tropical mountain slopes as a beautiful blossom, white, fragrant and evanescent. It turns into clusters of dark red berries, known as coffee "cherries." The bluish or greenish seed, the coffee bean, is imbedded in a sort of silver lining. In fact, coffee seems to have a good life throughout, from the moment it bursts into bloom to the moment when, fragrant and steaming, it graces the American table or crowns a sumptuous feast.

Here is one stimulant that leaves no depressing after-effects, one lightener of fatigue, one sustainer of strength it's going to be hard to do without. Mr. Henderson insists there's going to be enough coffee to go around. But if it's use is so curtailed as to bring real deprivation for some, this change in American habits will be but part of a broader changing pattern of living.

There is hope in the nostalgic news that in Brazil 242,000,000 pounds of coffee has been burned because of lack of market. As long as Brazil has it to burn, there is hope that in time a way will be found to again transport it to the United States.

BREAK CHILD OF NIGHT PROWLING

"Dear Dr. Myers: I am coming to you for advice on my four-year-old son. He goes to bed at 8 p. m., and every morning awakens at 6 a. m. He gets up and goes to the bathroom and instead of returning to his bed he prowls around the house.

"He goes out to the refrigerator and eats cold foods, eats bread, and cake. Then he takes cake to his room and awakens his 18-month-old baby sister and feeds her.

"I have tried reasoning with him to no avail. Then I tried keeping him in bed for hours at a time. This did not have any effect, so I resorted to spankings each time he got out of bed.

"This situation has been taking place for months, and as a result of walking around a cold house in his bare feet during the winter he has had a continuous session of colds."

The Doctor's Reply

In the first place, your lad gets only 10 hours sleep. He needs no less than 12. In the second place, he makes a nuisance of himself to the rest of the family.

Since you rise at 7:30 a. m., I suggest you put this child to bed at 7:30 p. m. Set the alarm clock to ring at 7:30 in the morning. Make clear to him at bedtime that he must not get out of bed until that time.

You have talked and "reasoned" too much; nor have you been consistent with your punishment. Set the clock to ring where you will hear it, and he won't, at six or a few minutes before, so as to be ready to spank him should he violate the rule.

Be sure there are no exceptions. Continue with this program every morning till the problem is solved. If you are consistent he will be "cured" in a week or so.

If you desire to read further on sleep problems write me at 23) East 45th street, New York City, enclosing a self addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp on it and let me send you without cost to you, my special bulletin, on "Sleeping Problems: Their Prevention and Correction."

GENERAL MACARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, AUSTRALIA—General Douglas MacArthur stops "MacArthur for president" talk: "I have no political ambitions whatsoever . . . I started as a soldier and I shall finish as one. The only hope and ambition I have in the world is for victory for our cause in the war."

NEW YORK—Elmer Davis, director of the office of war information, replies to some critics of the Navy: "I should like to emphasize that whatever the shortcomings of the men at the head of our Navy with regard to keeping the public informed, their primary job is to fight and win the war."

WASHINGTON—Senator George W. Norris calls for a single minister of national defense to head a combined Army, Navy and Air force: "My belief is that a change of this sort is the only means of obtaining a thoroughly unified command and that it might hasten the end of the war."

MIAMI BEACH—Lieut. Gen. H. H. Arnold, commanding general of the Army Air Forces testifies there is real cooperation between the Army and Navy in the Pacific battle areas: "It is a common sight to see Army Air Forces and Navy flyers seeking the enemy from the same air base. Out there rivalry and criticism disappear."

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

A three-year-old boy with a whistle snarled up traffic at a busy corner in New York the other day.

Nobody questioned who or what was behind the whistle.

Everytime the whistle tooted, brakes squealed, pedestrians with one foot in the street pulled it back hastily.

We like to think of the small boy and his loud whistle as something symbolic of the times.

Somewhere, somebody blows a whistle and people freeze where and as they are.

Sometimes it is a very big whistle and a very small blower.

But nobody questions who or what is behind the whistle.

Then the people look around cautiously and, having sized up the whistle-blower, hurry on again, a little shamefacedly.

Thought for the day: Toot! Toot! Pull over there!

Hints On Etiquette

If you are asked outright if you like your friend's new hat and you think it is terrible, don't say so. Remark that it is "striking" or "unusual," and immediately praise her dress or other article of wearing apparel to turn the conversation. That is what is known as tact.

FAMILY JOKE

A young married man in Boston met a friend of his bachelor days and insisted on his coming home with him to lunch. His wife was unprepared for visitors, and calling him aside told him she had only one dozen oysters, and that when his friend had eaten his quota of four, he must not be asked to take any more.

In spite of his promise to remember, when the guest had eaten his four the host pressed him to take more. The wife looked distressed and the friend declined. The husband insisted, the wife looked in agony, and the guest firmly refused to have the rest of the oysters brought him from the kitchen.

Later the wife said to her husband: "How could you urge him to have more oysters when I had explained to you that there weren't any more?"

"I'm very sorry," said the penitent husband, "but I forget all about it."

"Forgot about it! What do you suppose I was kicking you under the table for?" retorted his wife.

"But you didn't kick me," replied the husband.

Disappointment is not defeat until you quit.

"What you will get if you do" is a more effective selling argument than "What you will get if you don't."

Some things are just dirty enough to be brought up for political purposes.

The English have funny customs. Imagine stopping everything for tea instead of a coke.

Speaking of scrap, what about the tanks, pumps and car hoists at abandoned filling stations?

A small boy went to a drug store and asked for five cents worth of salts. While the man was weighing it he said, "Say, boss, don't give me full weight. It's me that has to take it."

WHAT A DIFFERENCE SIXTY YEARS MAKES

Sixty years ago women wore hoop-skirts, bustles, petticoats, corsets, cotton stockings, high buttoned shoes, ruffled cotton drawers, flannel nightgowns, puffs in their hair—did their own cooking, baking, cleaning, washing, ironing—raised big families—went to church Sunday—were too busy to be sick.

Today women wear anklets instead of stockings, shorts in the summer and slacks in winter, bandeaux instead of corsets, scanties instead of panties, page-boy bob instead of braids, smoke cigarettes in public, red enamel their nails and toes, accentuate the cruel lines of their mouths with livid lipstick, drink cocktails instead of straight liquor, wear opentoe wedgies instead of high button shoes, drive cars recklessly but not wrecklessly, play bridge for high stakes, and go in for politics as a pastime instead of as a vocation.

If you want to be happy, stop wondering why you're miserable.

If we who labor are to be judged by the worst we do, we'll all be out of luck.

If some of the old cars left parked on the street all night were gathered up by junk dealers it would help a lot.

READING ALOUD

"Do something please, to let the readers aloud know that their unrequested elocution becomes annoying to those who are constantly interrupted from their own reading. I thoroughly enjoying sitting in the living room to do my reading, but one of those elocutionists in my family makes it necessary for me to retire to my room to read."

Answer: Reading aloud does improve your diction and your voice tone, but, except upon special request, this exercise should be reserved for moments when you are alone. Many family rows have had their start because one of its members persisted in broadcasting favorite passages from his newspaper or book, thus preventing concentration by others. Reading aloud a mere sentence or paragraph in a room where others are reading will make you about as popular as a clucking hen in church.

Why not give your elocutionist a gentle hint to cure her of this unfortunate habit?

Question: Should long draperies be used when the radiators are placed directly under the window? If not, what length draperies would you suggest?—M. M.

Answer: They should reach to the sill when there is a radiator under the window. If there is no radiator, they may be three-quarter length or in a low-ceilinged room, full length to give weight to the walls.

Question: When a shower is given for me, should I open the gifts when presented or wait until I go home? What should I say?—Mary Jane.

Answer: Open the gifts as you receive them, thank the donors of each as you open it. Exclaim over each gift in your natural enthusiasm . . . "This is the loveliest luncheon set I've ever seen" . . . "Look at this beautiful bedspread."

SMILES

Nothing on earth can smile but man. Gems may flash reflected light, but what is a diamond flash compared to an eye-flash and a mirth-flash?

Flowers cannot smile; this is a charm that even they cannot claim. It is the prerogative of man; it is the color which love wears, and cheerfulness and joy—these three. It is a light in the window of the face, by which the heart signifies it is at home and waiting.

A face that cannot smile is like a bud that cannot blossom, and dries up on the stalk. Laughter is day, and sobriety is night, and a smile is the twilight that hovers gently between both.

It's wonderful how easy we can get along now without the things we used to think we had to have.

Argentina Shows Signs Of Wavering
May Drop Its Strictly Neutral Role
Axis Agents Are Expelled Recently

By CHARES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—President Ramon Castillo's government of the Argentine Republic shows signs of weakening in its policy of such resolute neutrality in the present war situation as almost to amount to an unsympathetic slant in the Axis' direction. At any rate, it has had several Axis agents arrested recently and expelled two or three of them from the country.

Undoubtedly taking it for granted, with considerable reason, that they were welcome to do whatever they pleased under the Castillo regime, these folk probably became so obvious with their activities as to have become troublesome even to the neutrality-wedded administration.

However, it may have been rather willing to make a few examples, for the rest of the Americas' edification.

Being one of the only two new world nations not to have, at least, broken relations with the Axis powers, not to mention declaring outright war, like a number of the others, certainly got the Buenos Aires rulership unpleasantly talked about throught the western hemisphere. With Chile similarly situated, possibly this wasn't so bad.

Chile Getting Tough

Now, though, Chilean President Juan Antonio Rios is cracking down so vigorously upon Axis representatives on his side of the Andes as to give the impression that he's about to join the Pan-American majority, leaving Argentina rather too conspicuously alone to be comfortable. President Rios has sided with the anti-Axis democracies all along, anyway, but he only lately was elected. Then State Undersecretary Sumner Welles fretted him severely by referring to Chile, along with Argentina, as a Latin American area in which, due to neutrality Axis spies, he said, were permitted to operate troublesomely. Nevertheless, irritated though he evidently was by Sumner's remark, the Santiago executive is losing no time in slapping an extinguisher upon Axis espionage.

Assuming that he plans an early break of Chilean relations with the German-Italian-Jap trio, he'll be leaving President Castillo without a new world partner, and it's conceivable that the latter doesn't like the prospect.

The Argentine chieftain isn't pro-Axis or pro-German on sentimental grounds, either.

In private life he's a land baron and the Argentine soil and climate produce almost exactly the same crop of livestock that the United States does, so that there's no market here for his stuff, whereas it's in great demand throughout the Axis generally and in Germany in particular.

Argentina's aristocracy is mainly agricultural or grazing. Consequently it's predominantly pro-Axis, for business reasons. And President Castillo belongs to it.

In the big cities, though, like Buenos Aires and Rosario, there are industrial and financial interests

LOVE OF FREEDOM

No matter what, by evil men
Of Hitler's kind, may yet be wrought,
While still the sun shall rise again
And minds are open still to thought,
In every land will heroes be
Teaching the doctrines of the free.

However strong the tyrant grows
Or seems to grow, by night and day
In places which he never knows
Will liberty's defenders stay.
For sword and gunfire, lash and chain,
The love of freedom can't restrain.

No tyrant yet has held his friends
Or kept his followers for long.
When power on power alone depends,
It dives, but seldom leads the throng.
The writing's plain upon the wall:
Who rules by force to force shall fall.

Man's love of freedom never dies.
The humblest slave, whoe'er he be,
Believes that some day he will rise
To fight again for liberty.
And be it soon or be it late
For that day he will work and wait.

LOOKING AT LIFE

—By Erich Brandeis

It's about time the ecdysiasts do something about it.

The police have been unfair to the ecdysiasts. The public has been unfair to the ecdysiasts. The press has been unfair to the ecdysiasts (with the exception of the now defunct Police Gazette).

So now the ecdysiasts of Los Angeles are picketing the office of the Police Commission, which decided to put them out of business.

What is that you say? You don't know what an ecdysiast is?

Gosh, haven't you got a dictionary?

An ecdysiast is someone practicing ecdysis, and ecdysis is the act of shedding an outer cuticular layer, as in the case of insects, crustaceans, etc.

You'll certainly admit (and so should the police) that our female ecdysiasts should have at least as much right as an insect.

Friends of mine who know a few ecdysiasts tell me that there is nothing crustacean about any of them."

As a matter of fact, I hear they are very soft-skinned.

The Los Angeles ecdysiasts, headed by beautiful blonde Marie Wilson, claim that stripping is an art.

Anything, they say, with a Greek or Latin name is either art or science. They don't maintain that ecdysis is exactly a science—but it is positively an ART.

Of course some evil-minded people will say that it isn't right to show too much of your skin.

But, again, there's a Greek word for it—epidermis.

And you must admit that there's nothing objectionable to a beautiful girl who commits the act of ecdysis down to the epidermis.

As a matter of fact, it sounds highly educational and elevating.

There is a big difference between a strip-teaser and an ecdysiast.

As you can find out at the box-office of any theatre when the next burlesque comes to down.

The World and the Mud Puddles

NOW WHAT?

When does an attorney-at-law become a hod carrier?

This interesting question has actually been raised by a Middletown, Connecticut, lawyer who presented his credentials as a representative from a Hartford, Conn., local Hod Carriers Union, at a convention of the Connecticut Federation of Labor, at New Haven, Conn.

Although conceding that his credentials were in order and that he had the "legal right" to a seat, John J. Egan, the federation's veteran secretary, contended that the lawyer had "no moral right" to sit as a delegate. Egan said he questioned as a matter of policy the adviseability of allowing any lawyer to participate in the deliberations as a delegate because by the nature of his profession he might be called on to represent interests other than those of labor.

Pointing out that other lawyers had for years unsuccessfully sought delegates' seats at conventions of the Connecticut Federation, Egan asserted that it would be "bad business" to admit them because it might open the sessions to lawyers with "political aspirations."

Declaring that "we've got along for more than fifty years without lawyers" another speaker said he would be reluctant to see a situation created where "common working men" would be compelled to "match wits with lawyers" at federation conventions.

"A lawyer would not belong here," contended a third, arguing that the lawyer was, in effect, an employer, since his profession probably required him to engage stenographic help and therefore was not entitled to attend a labor convention.

On the other side of the dispute State Senator Joseph T. Rourke praised the lawyer's status as a labor man and contended that delegates should not question his right to a seat. "If he is a member of a union, he's entitled to represent it if his credentials are in order," said Rourke, who pointed out that others had been seated as delegates of unions of trades in which they were not engaged.

It would seem that as far as the Connecticut Federation of Labor, is concerned, a lawyer cannot become a hod carrier.

New Charges In Campaign

Taylor Accuses Ross Of Using Public Funds For His Campaign

ROSS CONTINUES ATTACK ON MARTIN

By RAYMOND WILCOVT
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

HARRISBURG, Oct. 30.—Republican State Chairman M. Harvey Taylor today accused Auditor General F. Clair Ross, Democratic candidate for governor, of using "several hundred thousand dollars" of public funds for his campaign.

The charge, one of many hurled by both sides during the final week of the election, highlighted the closing days of the campaign, which is due to end tomorrow night. On Tuesday the voters will go to the polls to elect a governor and other state and federal office-holders.

"Thousands of dollars from the state treasury under the guise of expenditures for the auditor general's office are being spent in Ross' desperate and hopeless effort to become governor," asserted Taylor, campaign manager for Adjutant General Edward Martin, Republican gubernatorial nominee.

Costly To Taxpayers

"His campaign for the November 3 election is costing the taxpayers several hundred thousand dollars drawn from the state treasury by sly and systematic juggling of his records", charged the Republican leader.

"Let Clair Ross try to make the voters believe that in the last 16 months while he and his state-paid political henchmen have been campaigning throughout Pennsylvania that the increase of $43,000 in traveling expenses of the auditor general's office was for legitimate purposes and not spent to promote the political ego of F. Clair Ross," challenged Taylor.

The Democratic nominee, meanwhile, speaking last night from Wilkes-Barre over a statewide radio hookup, reiterated that his Republican opponent was not "worthy" to be elected governor. He referred again to his accusation, first made last Sunday, that Martin had concealed a $50,000 inheritance when he made a compromise debt settlement with a closed Washington (Pa.) bank in 1940 for 12½ per cent of its value. "I regret that an issue like this is in the campaign at all," he asserted.

which have ties with us Yankees, and that makes them favorable to our cause especially against the Germans, who don't supply them with much nourishment.

Pressure Applied

Well, President Castillo, coming from out in the sticks, with his big rural landlord's complex, into manufacturing and banking Buenos Aires, is liable to have had strong local pressure to bear on him, since his arrival, to modify his ideas. Incidentally, it is possible that it was pretty imperative pressure. It wouldn't be unprecedented for a united Buenos Aires group to upset a national Argentine administration. Later, perhaps the ruralites, being in a countrywide majority, might, after quite a campaign, reverse matters. That, however, wouldn't be any great consolation to the ousted executive, after he'd been attended to by the immediate revolutionaries.

There's another item to be taken into consideration.

Isn't it imaginable that President Castillo has decided, in his own mind, that the Axis is due to be licked by the democracies despite his economic preferences? On that theory it personally behooves him to shape his Argentine course accordingly, and lose no time in doing so. If so, his apparent switch democracyward and away from the Axis, is a favorable military democratic indication, for he's an astute guesser and, as previously observed, sentiment doesn't influence him.

From Yankee standpoint, other Latin-American countries do not count as the Argentine does. They can sell their produce to us (because we need their particular kinds of them) more conveniently and profitably than they can sell them to the Axis aggregation. So they're our allies, naturally.

Army Pilot's Safety Is Insured By Tests In Pressure Chamber

(Editor's Note: This is the second of a series of articles on the effort which the Army Air Forces put into securing the best and safest equipment for its planes and for the men who fly them.)

By WALTER KIERNAN
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WRIGHT FIELD, O., Oct. 30.—How would you like to drop 20,000 feet a minute? They do it at Wright Field without ever moving off the floor of the pressure chamber.

The pressure chamber is one of the "know how" devices installed at this giant test and laboratory base of the Army Air Forces.

More than a thousand pilots have passed through the pressure chamber learning how and when to use their oxygen equipment, learning the sensations of traveling at altitudes up to 40,000 feet.

Learning—without leaving the ground—safety in the air.

When your boy in the air service has been forced up to 20,000 or 25,000 feet by enemy planes it's a little late for him to find out that his oxygen mask won't work, that he doesn't know how to fit it properly, that his electrically heated flying suit isn't so hot, that his feet or his fingers are freezing.

But that won't happen. And it won't happen because Wright Field which is sort of doggedly determined to give your boy nothing but the best, is seeing to it that he and his equipment are fit for high altitude flying.

Some Incapable

Some boys are physically incapable of flying at high altitudes—big strong looking kids too. They don't know about that kink in their make-up that will keep them out of high altitude flying but Wright Field finds it out.

Here is the big silvery-painted pressure chamber, a horizontal tank with heavy air-seal doors. A couple of boys climb in with their flying togs, their oxygen masks. A test officer is with them to observe.

The big doors clank shut, heavy handles turn and the test is about ready to start. At a switchboard placed so that the operator can look into the tank through glass ports there is a microphone.

When the boys are ready inside the test begins. The operator slowly twists a knob and the reading on a standard altitude gauge begins to climb—4,000 feet—8,000 feet—10,000—15,000, glancing through the port you will see the boys are beginning to get a bit uncomfortable. They're hitting "rare air" without leaving the ground.

Now the flying suits go on, the gas masks are adjusted and the altitude gauge climbs again—20,000 feet, 25,000 feet.

There are a number of gauges mounted outside the pressure chambers. The operator can tell at a glance exactly what conditions are inside. Even the physical condition of each of the men in the chamber.

When they "come down to earth" again they will report their own sensations. Whether they seemed to be getting enough oxygen, whether the flying suits, helmets, mittens were satisfactory.

While they are in the chamber they can move around. Sometimes they are given simple little tests to see how the altitude effects them. For instance a pail loaded with 40 pounds of sand is in the chamber and a pilot may be asked through the microphone to lift it and carry it to the other end of the chamber.

At 8,000 feet he does it with no difficulty. At 25,000 he may find it is a different story to get the same muscular reaction.

The pressure chamber, the hot chamber, the cold chamber are in constant use. Will there be any chemical reaction in a certain medicine at high altitude, at 190 degrees or at 70 degrees below zero. Pop it into the chambers and find out . . that's what they do at Wright Field.

Will the oil freeze on a plane part and make it unworkable at low temperature? Run it in the freezing chamber and find out.

Everything goes in there—men and material. There's no guessing at Wright Field.

Explosion On One Jap Ship

GROUND CLASHES IN NEW GUINEA

By LEE VAN ATTA
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

GEN. DOUGLAS MACARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, In Australia, Oct. 30.—An explosion was caused aboard one Japanese ship and four other unidentified vessels were straddled with bombs when United States Flying Fortress bombers attacked the Jap naval base of Buin in the Solomon Islands, it was announced today in a communique.

The attack by night against Buin, on the southern tip of Bougainville Island, was carried out from an Allied base in the southwest Pacific in support of American forces battling the Japanese on Guadalcanal Island.

"The enemy naval base at Buin was attacked at night by our heavy bombers," the communique said.

"One unidentified vessel was directly hit and a heavy explosion followed. Four others, also unidentified, were straddled by bombs."

Other Ships Damaged

The communique said that damage to the four other ships from the missles dropped alongside could not be observed.

No interception was attempted by Japanese planes and all Allied craft returned to their base.

The Flying Forts dropped in over the Buin base at low altitude about midnight yesterday.

Allied ground troops in New Guinea meanwhile engaged Japanese land forces in fierce bayonet clashes and drove the enemy from positions around Alola, eight miles from Kokoda. A score of Japs were captured in the Allied push.

The Jap defense position was hastily evacuated when the Australians began pushing back the frontline defenders with thrusts of their steel blades.

The Allied advance, the communique said, is continuing toward Kokoda, midway between Port Moresby and the Jap coastal base at Buna.

Allied attack planes supported the ground forces by strafing and bombing the mountain trail south of Isurava and Abuari.

The communique said that two Jap planes raided Port Moresby during the night but inflicted slight damage.

Disappointed In War Plants Here

British Union Head "Not Impressed" With American Speed, Production

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 30 — Asserting that he was "not impressed" with the speed and production of American war plants, Jack Tanner, British president of the amalgamated engineers union, charged Thursday "that there doesn't seem to be appreciation for the urgent need of turning out these munitions of war as rapidly as possible."

"Although the plants are new, well laid out and finely equipped," Tanner told AFL and CIO leaders, "they are not working as fast as they are in England, where the war is on our doorstep. The men and women there are going all out for production."

Arthur Bryan Roberts, secretary of the national union of public employes, accompanied Tanner on his tour of war plants in the Cleveland area.

OCD NOTES

Activities Of O. C. D. Workers Are Outlined In This Column

IMPORTANT SQUAD

One body of OCD workers of which there has been no gob of publicity is important. In fact, very important. It is the decontamination squad. It is composed of men who know gas, and if there should be an air raid and gas bombs are dropped it will be the men of the decontamination squad who will hurry to the rescue. The squad is headed by Al Hadsell, superintendent of the Grassell Chemical company, and "Dutch" Wilson, chief chemist of the same concern. They have taken the OCD course and been graduated. Local townspeople can rest assured that if gas is dropped here these men and their colleagues will go into action immediately.

DEMOLITION SQUAD

Another squad which will be important to the community should bombs be dropped by Axis raiders is the demolition and clearance squad. They will go into action as soon as any building is damaged. It will be their duty to wreck walls left standing and to clear away the debris from streets and then will follow the road repair gang, who will restore the streets to passable condition. These organizations are composed mostly of street and sewer department employes of the city. Carmi Glover is the head of the department.

HURRY REPORTS IN

Frank Sargent, co-ordinator for City Director of OCD D. O. Davies, today isntructed that all senior wardens and acting senior wardens report immediately in regard to Monday night's blackouts. Their reports, in writing, should be delivered immediately to city OCD headquarters.

'Blue Stamp' Foods Announced By U. S.

November List Similar To October's, Government Man Says

Blue stamp foods available during November to participants in the food stamp plan were announced here today by John M. Price, local representative of the Agricultural Marketing Administration. November foods, the same as those listed for October, include fresh fruits and vegetables, whole wheat and enriched flour and other protective foods.

According to Price, participation in the food stamp plan by persons who receive public aid increases the food purchasing power of some 3,000,000 consumers who are thus enabled to improve their limited diets and help raise the national health level.

In addition to enabling needy persons to obtain a more healthful diet, the stabilizing effects of the food stamp plan on farmers' markets helps American farmers maintain their increased production of wartime food.

The complete blue stamp list issued by the Agricultural Marketing Administration for the month of November in all food stamp program areas is as follows: fresh apples, all fresh vegetables including Irish and sweet potatoes, shell eggs, corn meal, hominy (corn) grits, dry edible beans, wheat flour, enriched wheat flour, self-rising flour, enriched self-rising flour and whole wheat (graham) flour.

Farmers Oppose WMC's Program

President Of Farm Bureau Federation Reveals McNutt To Answer Charges

By EDWIN DARBY
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—The American Farm Federation launched a campaign on Thursday to stop what it termed a "concerted plan" on the part of the manpower commission and other administration leaders to place "impractical and unnecessary social controls on the farmers under the guise of the war effort."

Edward A. O'Neal, president of the powerful farm organization, revealed that the federation will demand the appearance of Paul McNutt, manpower chief, before the federal economic board today to answer charges that the farm labor shortage situation is being used to foster "New Deal regulations".

Referring to McNutt's instructions to the agriculture department to stabilize farm wages, O'Neal said he told Economic Director James F. Byrnes that:

"This is a part of a program to fasten upon agriculture impractical social controls under the guise of the war effort and in violation of policies established by congress with respect to agriculture labor."

O'Neal further maintained that the recent plan to alleviate the farm labor shortage by the importation of Mexican workers "has been seriously jeopardized" by a "far-reaching program" of fixing minimum wages and hours.

McNutt, announcing the plan to defer dairy, livestock and poultry farmers from the draft, stated that the system would be extended to other types of farm labor as soon as shortages appear critical

Taxing us so we can't spend so much is effective but painful—like enforcing a reduced diet by removing the stomach.

Claim Germans Frozen To Death On Russian Front

(International News Service)

LONDON, Oct. 30.—A snowstorm has been raging for days in the Caucasus and hundreds of Germans have been frozen to death, the Moscow radio said Thursday.

In a desperate effort to penetrate to the Caucasian coast, the Axis has been bringing up special ski and toboggan detachments of Alpine infantry, it was said. Soviet ski troops, using tommy-guns, have been swooping down on the Germans from mountain paths and precipices and killing many of them.

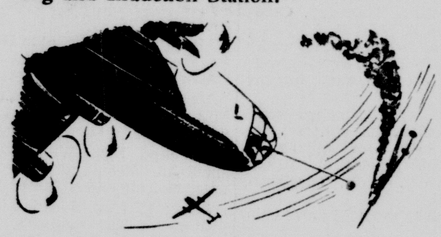
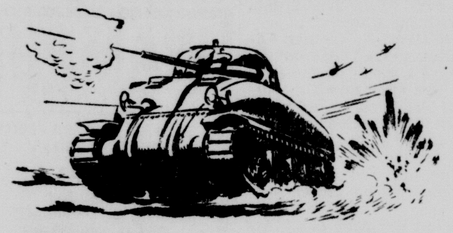
THIRTEEN ROADS TO ADVENTURE
for Men of 18 and 19
Choose, while you can, one of 13 branches of the U. S. Army. Get ready now to get in your licks at the Axis

MAKE no mistake, the Army of the United States is going back to Bataan. It's going to put the cocky Jap army to headlong flight. Immortal Corregidor will again see our flag flying proudly overhead. We're going to hit the Axis in every part of the world. And some day the streets of Berlin will echo to the clatter of American "tank busters." Don't you want to be there?

You young Americans—the hardest hitting, toughest fighting team in the world—have got the stuff to help bring this about. Today the Army offers you, before your 20th birthday, the privilege of selecting any one of 13 different branches in which to get into this fight. Read about them. Talk them over with your family and get full information at your nearest Army Recruiting and Induction Station.



AIR FORCES—Here you have splendid opportunities—more than 26 highly specialized jobs—mechanics and radio men, bombardiers, pilots, navigators, gunners, aerial photographers; flying in planes, gliders or serving on the ground. Or, if you're skilled with tools, you can gain first-hand knowledge and experience servicing the fastest, finest planes on earth. It's all great training for a career in the mighty field of aviation.



ARMORED FORCE—This is the team of gunners, drivers and radio operators that smashes hard at the enemy in mammoth tanks and armored cars . . . roars over the countryside on husky motorcycles . . . cuts across fields in bronco-busting "jeeps". . . rolls up to battle in huge, powerful trucks. If you're mechanically minded, you may get plenty of action and training keeping these modern implements of war in first-class fighting shape.

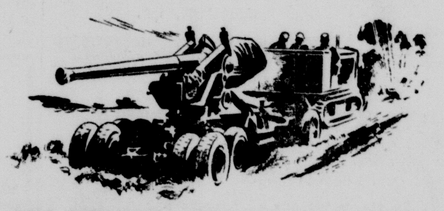
CAVALRY—Strike—and strike hard! Our modern Cavalry is equipped to do it. The finest horses trained for the toughest terrain, armored cars, motorcycles, special trucks, machine guns, light mortars, radios—these are your "tools" for battle in this branch of the Army. They need men to ride and fight them. And they need men to maintain them. The rougher the going, the better the Cavalry likes it.

CHEMICAL WARFARE SERVICE—You do not need an advanced knowledge of chemistry to join this vital branch of the Army. Here you become a combat soldier firing chemical munitions. One of your principal weapons is the 4.2-inch chemical mortar used for smoke screens to cover the advance of troops. You'll be working with the newest developments in chemical warfare.

COAST ARTILLERY CORPS—The Coast Artillery includes both world-wide antiaircraft service and harbor and shore defenses. Around the world, they're knocking the enemy out of the sky . . . peppering our harbor waters with deadly mines against hostile ships. Gunners are manning antiaircraft guns, big-calibre railway guns and tractor-drawn 155's. Here's thrilling experience, in gunnery and seamanship, and in electrical and radio fields too.

CORPS OF ENGINEERS—Build and destroy—you learn how to do both in the Corps of Engineers. Build to pave the way for our Army . . . destroy to obstruct the enemy. Bridges, roads, tank traps, camouflage—you build 'em all. You operate railroads. In powerful assault boats of the Amphibian Command you carry troops to secret attack. Engineers are trained to fight and they see plenty of action.

CORPS OF MILITARY POLICE—These are the men who expedite mass movements of troops by skilful regulation of traffic . . . up at the front and on highways at home. They're the ones responsible for controlling prisoners of war. They are men of integrity who maintain law and order wherever the Army goes. And they're trained to operate as tactical units in battle when needed.



FIELD ARTILLERY—In this branch you can become one of the team that hurls the huge shells which soften up the foe . . . split wide open his supply lines . . . scatter his reserves under a hail of fire and pave the way for "the kill" by your own Infantry and Armored Force. Today's Field Artillery is a fast-moving group of men who know how to deliver telling blows where it hurts the enemy the most.

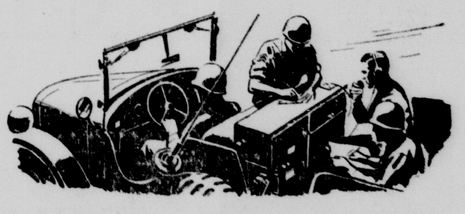
"KEEP'EM FLYING!"

INFANTRY—Roaring to the front in big trucks, skiing down snowy mountain slopes, floating to earth by parachute or flying into enemy territory in big transport planes, today's Infantry is streamlined. With the terrific fire-power of eleven different weapons, it's more than ever "the backbone of the Army." Upon enlistment in the Infantry, you may request assignment for tank destroyer training.

MEDICAL DEPARTMENT—Wherever our soldiers go, on training maneuvers or up to the front, the Medical Department goes along to care for their health, and help save lives. There are hundreds of responsible positions for enlisted men in this department. Ambulance drivers, laboratory specialists, pharmacists, X-ray operators, dental technicians, veterinary assistants—these and many more will find action and splendid training for the future.

ORDNANCE DEPARTMENT—Implements of war, large and small, are supplied and serviced by the Ordnance Department—tanks, tractors, trucks, giant field and harbor defense guns, grenades, small arms, and even optical instruments. And there's plenty of action in the field for the trained specialists whose job it is to keep every piece of equipment in fighting trim.

QUARTERMASTER CORPS—Soldiers in the front line depend on supply units to keep them in battle. Food. Shelter. Clothing. Equipment for special climates and tasks, all the way from Iceland to the jungles of Africa. Wherever our men are fighting, the Quartermaster soldier is on the job. The enlisted man may learn one or more of some 70 valuable trades in the Quartermaster Corps.



SIGNAL CORPS—In the Signal Corps you are away ahead of the action—the eyes and ears of war. Lightning-speed communication is your job. The ultra-modern in radio transmitters and receivers, "Electronic Sentries," "Walkie-Talkies" and scores of other closely guarded secret devices are yours to assemble, install and operate. There's no better training for one of the most promising after-the-war industries . . . no more exciting branch of the service.

'Roaming Hams' Subject To Fine In Cincinnati

(International News Service)

CINCINNATI, O.—The owner of a "roaming ham" in Cincinnati is liable to a fine of 12½ cents and the collector of a fine may charge 30 cents for doing the collecting.

That law is still on Cincinnati's books, out back in 1802, when the city was just getting under way, it was a mighty important law. Apparently it was a subject uppermost in the minds of the city's early fathers, because it was the first ordinance passed.

Records disclose that on March 5, 1802, the local governing body passed the ordinance, making it unlawful for any person owning hogs to permit them to run loose. For violating the ordinance, the owner could be fined 12½ cents for each hog at large, plus a fee of 30 cents to be paid to the collector of the fine.

The hog ordinance was disclosed when neither the mayor nor any member of his staff was able to tell just what was the first ordinance passed by Cincinnati's city council.

PLEASURE CRAFT JOINS UP

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, O. — No longer will the old Seeandbee carry gay holiday crowds on Lake Erie cruises. The multiple-decked pleasure craft has been commissioned as the USS Wolverine, an aircraft carrier.

The Navy purchased the Seeandbee last March and a Cleveland shipyard transformed it into a carrier, shifted her superstructure and smokestack to the port side and erected the huge, overhanging flight deck.

The Wolverine will be used on Lake Michigan as a training carrier for student aviators learning carrier landings and take-offs.

The average adult person has about one and one-half square meters of skin, or approximately 3500 square inches.

Australians send more telegraphic communications per head each year than any other people in the world.

Junior Red Cross Opens Activities

County-Wide Enrollment Will Get Under Way On November 2 In Schools

OUTLINE PLANS WEDNESDAY EVE

Junior Red Cross enrollment opens Monday, November 2, throughout the country. Dr. John Meehan, chairman and Miss Ruth Lewis, co-chairman, met with the all city council, composed of two representatives from each public school, and a teacher who sponsors the program for the year, at a supper meeting given by the Canteen in the Chapter House Wednesday evening when plans for this enrollment were made.

The enrollment of the Junior Red Cross is separate from the Roll Call, which this year has been postponed until March, 1943. There is no membership fee for a junior. Children enroll as a room and for the sum of 50c they get their Junior Red Cross badge, a colorful poster for the classroom, and a monthly magazine which gives them news of other Junior Red Cross activities in other schools.

The program for the fall months will cover the filling of Christmas boxes to be sent to Europe, leaving the Chapter October 31. Menu covers for the Christmas dinner of 200 sailors on one of our battle ships will be another project, which must be completed in early November so they may reach their destination in time for the Christmas holiday.

Throughout the year the Juniors carry out different programs to build up a service fund for their schools which will be supervised by the all city council and sponsors and used for programs that meet with the National Junior Red Cross specifications.

In many of the city schools and especially in the Ellwood City Auxiliary, excellent health programs have been carried out with this fund, but this year the national organization is asking that the Juniors remember the National Children's Fund making available more of their pennies for day nurseries, children's hospitals and children's convalescent homes.

Underrating Enemy Unfair To Our Boys

Rear Admiral Woodward Warns Against "Loose Thinking" By American People

(International News Service)

BOSTON, Oct. 30.—Rear Admiral Clark H. Woodward, U. S. N., warned on Thursday against "loose thinking" by the American people and termed the underrating of German and Japanese fighting power "unfair to our boys."

Speaking before a conference where 50 Massachusetts factories were honored for having won the Army-Navy "E" pennants, Rear Admiral Woodward listed the following five points of "loose thinking":

1—"Miracles in industry — production alone will win the war;
2—"Time is on our side—there is no urgency;
3—"The enemy is dull-witted, slow, dumb and yellow;
4—"This war is futile;
5—"This is not basically our war at all."

More Airmen Are Decorated

American Fliers Given Honors For Service In Pacific Battles

By FRANK ROBERTSON
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

GEN. MacARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, Oct. 30.—Echoes of the battle of Macassar Strait, when American airmen were combat fledglings, were heard today as members of an American bombing crew were decorated for bravery in action against the Japanese invasion fleet.

In the two missions mentioned in the citations the flying fortress bomber shot down nine enemy Zero fighters.

Purple Hearts were awarded to a group whose heroic acts were performed on the ground. After a heavy Japanese raid on an allied airfield in New Guinea they saved planes and other valuable property. Despite danger from delayed action bombs and the possibility of grounded planes exploding if fire reached their ammunition supplies, the airmen dashed onto the field and moved the allied planes to places of safety.

Those included in this citation were:

Sergt. Frank Devine of Pottsville, Pa., and Sergt. Anthony Leodora of Philadelphia.

Purple Hearts were awarded also to Maj. Richard Bardon of DuBois, Pa.; Maj. Edwin Broadhurst of Smithfield, N. Y.; Capt. Francis Gideon of Payne, O., and Capt. Percy Stoddart of Saugerties, N. Y.

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 30 — Military police in western Pennsylvania today conducted an extensive search for seven soldiers who escaped from jail last night while awaiting trial for desertion or absence without leave.

The "break" was discovered when one of the prisoners was spotted boarding a street car in Pittsburgh. A checkup at military police headquarters revealed that one of the men obtained a saw and ripped through a steel chain with which the cell was locked.

The seven men then forced a transom on a rear door and crawled through.

Fifty Seven Hurt In Trolley Mishap

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 30.—Fifty-seven persons, most of them war workers, were recovering today from injuries received when a crowded trolley car struck an open switch and careened into a car barn in northeast Philadelphia.

The injured, greatest number hurt in a trolley accident in Philadelphia for several decades, were taken to two hospitals. Workmen's dinner pails, hats, shoes and other articles of clothing were scattered over the glass-strewn floor of the trolley.

Shouts and screams for help aroused the neighborhood as the derailed car snapped off a heavy wooden pole and came to rest, broken electric wires shooting blue sparks. The trolley was bound for the Frankford arsenal.

No Apology Says Leader In England

(International News Service)

LONDON, Oct. 30.—The British people were told today that they need not apologize to anyone for the showing their country has made during three years of war against the Axis.

Reviewing the British war effort, Minister of Home Security Herbert Morrison answered critics abroad by citing the material and military contributions made by England.

He pointed to the battle of Britain and civilian resistnce to the severe German air blitz, the recapture of Ethiopia, Britain's support of Greece when the country was invaded, and Prime Minister Churchill's instant support of Russia when the Soviets were attacked.

"Our attitude and outlook from the start of the war to the present day," Morrison said, "has been consistent . . . was held in honorable and worthy applause two years ago. It is not less so today."

"Today it seems a different story," he continued.

"We are having critical shafts directed at us from various points of the compass."

He said that Britain did not question the right of subjugated countries in Europe to urge Britain on to doing more, but they are the very ones who are not doing so.

"I don't think we British need to apologize to anyone for our part in the three years of war," he said.

"We have made mistakes and suffered ill fortune. But happily we owe no one an explanation on that account but curselves."

A varied and interesting program of games, dancing and amusement has been arranged by John Walzer, chairman. There will be prizes for the best juvenile costumes, and a surprise is promised for the adults, who will come in their best bibs and tuckers. Cider, doughnuts and coffee will be served.

Members are entitled to bring eligible veterans as their guests, and an invitation has also been extended to all present service men who are home on furlough to be the guests of the post.

Ford Plant Will Produce Gliders

Part Of Huge Plant To Be Used For New Type Of War Construction

(International News Service)

DETROIT, Oct. 30 — Some of the facilities of the huge Ford motor company will be utilized in producing transport gliders on an assembly basis which are designed to carry 15 invasion-equipped soldiers, the company announced today.

The formal announcement said that the gliders are nearly as large as a medium sized bomber, having a fuselage 52 feet long and a wing spread of 84 feet. The Ford glider weighs 3,000 pounds. The fuselage is built around a framework of tubular steel, the company said, with the wings being constructed of airplane spruce and mahogany plywood. The outer surface is coated with close-weave, long fiber cotton fabric.

The company disclosed that a recent test of the first glider at Ford airport proved successful. The engineless craft, a type of which were used so successfully by the Nazis in their invasion of Crete, was cut loose from a two-motored army transport at 8,500 feet. For 15 minutes, the broad winged craft floated high over the airport and then glided in for a gentle landing.

An innovation introduced by Henry Ford in the manufacturing the gliders reduces the drying time of certain joints from eight hours to five minutes and this is one reason why the Ford glider has been adapted to the automotive type of line production, the company said.

About 70 per cent of the Latin Americans are with us. The rest are waiting to be shown that we really believe in freedom for others.

Cant Be Reformed Claims Prisoner

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Lee Fitch, 38, escaped prisoner, today proved his point that he is utterly beyond reformation, redemption or what have you.

The law says an indeterminate sentence may be imposed only on a prisoner who can be reformed. Fitch, up for sentence following his latest recapture, cited his 19-year record as proof that he couldn't be reformed. Judge Harry Stackell, after a long look at the record, agreed and sentenced the prisoner to one year, instead of an indeterminate term up to three years.

THREE INJURED

(International News Service)

DETROIT, Oct. 30 — Circuit court Judge Homer Ferguson, republican candidate for United States Senator from Michigan, and two trainmen were injured today when a Grand Trunk train crashed into three boxcars at a junction in nearby Durand.

The average German worker, according to estimates, worked 56 hours a week and earned $8, in 1939.

College Situation In War Time Discussed By Babson This Week

By ROGER W. BABSON
(Copyright, 1942, Publishers Financial Bureau, Inc.)

NEW YORK CITY, Oct. 30.—Inquiries are coming from schools and colleges as to what their financial policy should be during the war. As to curriculum, this may be out of my line, although Mrs. Babson and I are largely responsible for Babson Institute and Webber College. Both will continue operating and should be crowded with students when the war is over. Like other patriotic schools, we expect much smaller than normal attendance during the war. As to financial policies, however, I am qualified to speak.

BABSON

Patriotic Demands

These comments, therefore, are directed to parents, Boards of Incorporators, Boards of Trustees and the faculties of educational institutions, especially those exempt from taxation. These have an extra obligation to our country to which they pay no taxes, and particularly to their local communities which do not even tax their real estate. This puts educational intsitutions in an entirely different class from commercial, industrial and other business corporations. Colleges, therefore, should forget themselves entirely. After carrying out contracts with present students they should put the good of the country first—certainly before their faculties and other employees.

During the recent business depression it was up to all such institutions, especially those tax-exempt, to do what they could to prevent unemployment and to keep faculties and others employed. Today the situation is very different. Most men and women now working for educational institutions are needed in war work and we should endeavor to get on without them wherever possible. The United Nations must win this war or all of our educational institutions, as we now know them, will go out of existence. Certainly, endowment funds would be wiped out. To try to maintain the present curriculum and staffs is, in my humble opinion, unpatriotic, unbusinesslike and unfair to the students. This is especially true now that the 18-year-olds are to be drafted.

What About Women's Colleges?

Temporarily, women's colleges have an advantage. The draft law does not effect women. On the other hand, all those concerned should see what is happening to women's colleges in Germany, Italy, Japan and the occupied nations. Even in England their curriculum has been entirely changed with great stress upon vocational work. Colleges are justified in training women to become expert stenographers and typists, accurate accountants and machine workers. To ask girls, however, to continue college during the remainder of this war under the cultural college program is, to my mind, absolutely wicked.

Naturally, the officers and department heads of many institutions are loathe to make such changes. Such men and women are naturally conservative and are often the last to recognize the serious conditions that this country faces. Hence, it is especially important that the trustees should take a hand at this critical moment. Trustees as a rule are good-natured, intelligent gentlemen who usually, and rightly so, let the president run the institution, being content to back him up and collect their fees. Such a policy is alright in ordinary times, but these are extraordinary times. Today trustees should assert their power in case the president and faculty do not cooperate 100 per cent in the necessary readjustment.

What About Endowment Funds?

College finance committees should seek diversification under normal conditions. Furthermore, as bonds become due, colleges may be justified in reinvesting a certain proportion of the money in corporation bonds of a similar character in order to enjoy proper diversification. Certainly, any surplus income from endowment or other funds should be invested only in government bonds, preferably the so-called "SERIES G". Furthermore, an effort should be made to reduce expenses so as to buy more government bonds. Certainly, income from endowment funds should not now be used to pay faculty members and other employees who are needed in war work. This applies especially to the unnecessary overhead with which so many educational institutions are saddled and to those instructors whose courses are not directly contributory to the war work.

Some college presidents and deans will argue regarding being ready for carrying on after the war. I am not advocating the closing of any institution however small or weak. Let every institution continue to keep open; but let it confine itself for the duration to subjects which will directly and today help win the war. This means running more or less on a skeleton basis and especially soliciting for students, older persons who are not capable of doing war work but, owing to the war, are temporarily out of business.

Instructional Possibilities

There are hundreds of thousands of men, from automobile salesmen to housewives, who for the duration are out of business. It is a wonderful opportunity for them to use the next year or two in securing the education of which they have always felt the need. For the benefit of such men and women all colleges should be kept open, although run more or less on a skeleton basis. Let me further add that such mature students should get much more out of their work when a member of small student groups, any 20 per cent of normal enrollment. Hence, the next year or more presents a golden opportunity for businessmen too old to enter the war and to women otherwise too busy.

South Carolina, with less than 5,000, has fewer foreign-born residents than any other state in the Union.

Immunize Baby, Doctor Advises

No Need Of Any Baby Contracting Diphtheria Health Officer Reports

"If every baby was immunized there would be no diphtheria," said Dr. W. A. Womer, city health officer today in his daily bulletin, stating:

"About this time of each year the health department begins to look out for diphtheria.

"There are many kinds of sore throat. Diphtheria is the worst kind.

"Diphtheria is catching. The germs are in the throat. A person may have diphtheria germs in the throat and yet not be sick. These people are called 'carriers'.

"A 'carrier' is a very dangerous person. They give the disease to other people but never have it themselves.

"Babies get diphtheria in its worst form.

"There is no need for anyone to have diphtheria any more. Vaccination will protect babies and children from the terrible disease. It is cheap and harmless.

"If you want to protect your baby, have it immunized by your doctor as soon as possible."

SALARY LIMITATION $54,200 THIS YEAR

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30—A salary limitation of $25,000 after taxes means a limitation of approximately $54,200 this year and $67,200 next year, the treasury estimated Thursday.

The estimate, made by acting secretary of the Treasury John L. Sullivan, was that men making those salaries in 1942 and 1943 would have $25,000 left over paying their taxes. The figures would vary with exemptions, but these make comparatively less difference in the higher income brackets.

Committee To Cut Federal Expenses

Byrd Economy Committee Intends To Slash Non-Essential Outlays

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—The Byrd economy committee planned on Thursday to resume session in two weeks with the firm intention of slashing huge sums—perhaps billions—from government expenditures in the new congress.

Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D) Va., chairman of the joint committee named by congress to recommend means of cutting non-essential federal outlays, notified members that they will be asked to make a searching study both of war and non-war expenditures.

The committee will begin its studies even before President Roosevelt prepares a budget for submission to the new congress early in January, and may exert its influence with the White House to reduce the budget.

With war expenditures mounting and many non-defense agencies being maintained, it is estimated that the president's budget will exceed $80,000,000,000. Tax revenues for next year are estimated at about $26,000,000,000.

Fearing a crisis in federal fiscal affairs, members of the committee hope to be able to eliminate many peace-time social and welfare activities, cut into the personnel of the old-line government bureaus, and dip into war and navy expenditures to determine whether there are extravagances.

Reveal Stories Of Jap Treachery In Solomons

By SERGT. RICHARD T. WRIGHT
U. S. Marine Corps Combat Correspondent
(Distributed by International News Service.)

SOMEWHERE IN THE SOUTH PACIFIC, Sept 21—(Delayed) — Stories of Jap treachery, one telling how 28 out of 30 marines paid with their lives for honoring a Jap flag of truce, were reported today by Solomon Islands casualties evacuated to the Navy mobile base hospital here.

Pvt. Raymond Paul Nunley, of Lancaster, Ohio, nursing a leg wound received by the early Solomons fighting, told of the massacres of the marine truce mission.

"A Jap officer carrying a white flag came riding into a marine camp one day," Nunley said, "and told the commanding officer a bunch of Japs across a nearby inlet were isolated and wanted to surrender. Our C. O. (commanding officer) took him at his word and 30 marine officers and men piled into a tink lighter and crossed five miles of water to the point where the Japs were located.

Shoot Under White Flag

"Only two of those marines are alive today. As the tank lighter approached the beach a few were observed, and sure enough one of them was waving a white flag. As the boat scraped onto the beach, the marines let down the ramp and started to go ashore. Without warning they were met by a terrific burst from several machine guns hidden in the underbrush. They were mowed down like stalks of corn, except for two who escaped and swam to safety."

Another time, Pvt. Nunley said, two men of his company on patrol duty saw a Jap on horseback moving along the fringe of the jungle waving a white flag. The sergeant in charge walked out to make the Jap a prisoner.

"He got within five feet of the Jap and was shot and killed," Nunley said. "This sergeant was a mighty popular guy, and later that day several of his pals went out to avenge him. How many Japs they killed with their bayonets I don't know. They wouldn't talk about it when they returned."

Platoon Sergt. Harry W. Schiler, of Napa, Calif., who is recovered from a knee wound, was himself a near victim of the white flag trick.

COAST GUARDSMAN SUFFERS INJURIES

Relatives here have received word that Seaman Henry William Marshall, U. S. Coast Guard, Section Base, Morro Bay, Calif., is in the station hospital at Camp San Luis Obispo, Calif., after having been injured in the line of duty. The exact nature of his injuries have not been learned.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Marshall, and wife, Mrs. Rose Marshall, of this city, have left for California to be at his bedside, and expect to arrive there tomorrow.

War Facts Should Be Made Public Says Senator Davis

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 30.—U. S. Senator James J. Davis was on record today as demanding publication of war news "as it happens rather than have it relayed to us by whispers and rumors."

Addressing a Republican rally in Pittsburgh, at which time he urged the election, Tuesday, of Maj. Gen. Edward Martin, the senator, a member of the senate naval affairs committee said:

"We waited practically a year for some facts on Pearl Harbor; six months for the story on the Philippines and Midway is not all in yet.

"Let's have the facts. The American people can take them."

Referring to the state gubernatorial election, Davis said of the Republican standard bearer:

"I believe General Martin will make a good governor. And I believe he needs a lot of strength in the legislature of Pennsylvania."

Fire Destroys Butler Factory

(Special To The News)

BUTLER, Oct. 30. — A $325,000 fire swept the two buildings of the Pittsburgh Steel Drum company Thursday afternoon so swiftly that employes had to escape through windows. All records were destroyed except the payroll checks which go out today. No one was injured.

The flames started in the paint shop, shot 200 feet in the air and rolled through the rest of the plant with incredible speed; the whole was smouldering ruins in an hour and 10 minutes.

Volunteer firemen from nearby communities prevented the fire's spreading to a neighboring plant, the Fretz-Loon Tube company.

Indict 95 For Alleged Theft Of Ration Books

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 30.—Nine-five men indicted by a federal grand jury on charges of buying or selling stolen gasoline ration coupons today faced maximum penalties upon conviction of 10 years imprisonment, $10,000 fines or both.

The charges grew out of the alleged theft of 4529 gasoline ration books by two boys who broke into a Norristown schoolhouse last August. The boys, Justin Mullin, 16, and Francis Demato, 15, Norristown, will be treated as juvenile delinquents.

Authorities estimated the stolen books had a value of 1,000,000 gallons and that one-quarter of them had been recovered. Bail for the accused was set in amounts ranging from $500 to $1500.

'Tire Depot' Stockpile Rises As Extras Pour In

A mountain of 2,100 tires—some new, but most of them used—began to rise today at the "tire depot" of the Railway Express Agency here, J. W. Anderson, Railway Express manager announced.

More are being added to the stockpile in the Lawrence Auto Sales Co. wareroom at the rate of 200 a day—125 from New Castle car owners and 75 from towns surrounding.

The precious tires and tubes are being collected by Railway Express drivers under the Idle Tire Purchase Plan, put into effect October 15 by the Office of Price Administration.

Car owners with more than five tires in their possession are selling their extra casings in this manner, for when they register for gasoline rationing, which goes into effect November 22, they must give serial numbers of all tires held.

Procedure Explained

Because of inquiries that are being directed to the Railway Express Agency office by motorists with tires to sell, Anderson made the following authorized explanation of procedure under the Idle Tire Purchase Plan:

"To sell his tires to the government, the individual should telephone the Railway Express Agency office to pick up his tires and take them to a government-designated warehouse. The owner will be given a receipt for the tires and will receive his check, or war bonds and stamps if he desires, in payment from the government shortly after the tires have been inspected at the warehouse for official determination of their value. Payment will be at retail price ceiling levels.

"Those who live outside Railway Express Agency pick-up zones should bring their idle tires to the agency's office.

"To each tire, the Railway Express agent will attach a shipping tag identifying it with the receipt given to the seller. All tires collected in this way will be sent to the warehouses where they will be appraised by a paid tire expert. No deduction will be made for the services performed by the Railway Express Agency.

"Damaged but repairable tires and tubes will be appraised at their ceiling prices, less cost of repairs. Scrap rubber prices will be paid for any that cannot be made serviceable. Persons owning casings obviously fit only for scrap, should sell them at once to scrap rubber dealers, a transaction permitted in present restrictive orders."

When the Idle Tire Purchase Plan was announced by the Office of Price Administration, it was stated that tires purchased would be available for rationing to keep the nation's passenger cars rolling for essential mileage.

Roosevelt To Study Manpower Problem

Agrees With Green, Murray To "Explore Situation" Before Regimentation

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—President William Green of the American Federation of Labor announced Thursday following a White House conference that President Roosevelt had agreed to further exploration of the man-power problem before resorting to "compulsory action."

Green and President Philip Murray of the CIO joined in stating that they and other members of the President's labor-war board reiterated labor's opposition to regimentation of manpower in today's meeting with Mr. Roosevelt.

"We agreed that we should explore the situation fully and completely to find out the best policy to pursue and what action to take without resorting to regimentation," Green told reporters.

"We want to see what we can do at a future meeting."

Green and Murray declined to say how long the period of "exploration" may take, but the AFL leader pointed out that the time would depend upon the exigencies of war.

Holds Turkey Will Resist Nazi Offers

Senator Connally Predicts Turkey Will Remain Neutral Friend Of Democracy

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—Sen. Tom Connally (D), Tex., chairman of the Senate foreign relations committee, predicted in a Senate speech Thursday that Turkey will remain neutral in the war and will resist all Nazi offers for participation.

"Turkey will remain a friend of democracy and will block the pathway of aggression to the Middle East with 'a million bayonets' because of the manifest respective aims of the two war alignments," he stated.

Connally congratulated Turkey on the 19th anniversary of the establishment of the Turkish republic and praised President Ismet Inonu as a strong leader.

He declared that the Nazis "have been subjecting Turkey to a propaganda barrage—a barrage of alternate flattery, attempts at bribery and threats."

Emergency Harvest Workers Plentiful

Census Bureau Reports Reservoir Of 5,000,000 Boys Available In Nation

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—The census bureau released data from the 1940 census showing that emergency help for fall crop harvesting may be drawn from a reservoir of more than 5,000,000 boys and young men attending schools throughout the nation.

More than 2,000,000 of the students, the bureau said, reside in rural areas where they would be most readily available for farm work

In his last fireside chat, Oct. 12 President Roosevelt pointed out the potential value of these youths in assisting farmers throughout the country during the present harvest season and suggested that students be given time off to help bring in the crops.

Of the 5,100,000 males 14 to 24 years of age who reported that they were attending school in 1940, nearly 3,900,000 were 14 to 17 years old, while about 800,000 were 18 and 19, and less than 500,000 were 20 to 24.

Although the 20-24 group is largely unavailable because of military induction and other demands, there remain over 4,600,000 youths 14 to 19 years old attending school, of whom about 2,000,000 are in rural areas.

HALLOWEEN EVENT IN SOUTH SIDE IS NOTABLE SUCCESS

times, the marchers glittered in numerous patriotic attire. An outfit, made out of several copies of The News, was among the most unusual displays.

Funny outfits, designed to bring out the laughter of the crowd, were missing, stressing the fact that even the 'teen aged realize that there is serious work ahead. The customary large number of young men, ranging in ages between 19 and 25, was absent. Many of them are wearing uniforms—not those used in masquerade parades, however.

Bands In Line

The New Castle high, Croton and Ben Franklin school bands were right on the beam as they filled the air with appropriate tunes.

Grand Marshal Ivor V. Davis gave the starting signal at 8 and the mummers, committeemen and bands moved down Long avenue to Mill, up Mill to Home, down Home to Moravia. On the corner of Moravia and Long the paraders moved up Long avenue past the judges' stand, erected on the corner of Mill and Long.

After the parade, Elmer Tinstman introduced Judge W. Walter Braham who spoke briefly but forcibly. He pointed out that the south siders' offer to pay 4 per cent of each bond up to $100 was a noble deed but emphasized that citizens do not need an incentive to buy bonds at a time like this.

Wasp Survivors Speak

Cheers and applause filled the air when Tinstman introduced a pair of local young men—Stephen Pastirak of 116 Miller street and Joseph Paluszak, Jr., of 508 North Jefferson street, who survived the sinking of the Wasp on Sept. 15.

Pastirak said that he was pleased and glad to be home while Paluszak said that it cost the Japs $6,000 to sink the Wasp, explaining that each of the three torpedoes cost $2,000. He then urged the crowd to step forward and sock it right back at the Japs by buying bonds.

General Chairman Joseph J. Frengel and his committee unquestionably staged an affair that was not only timely but one that must be ranked among the top civic achievements.

Prize Awards

First prize, a $25 bond, went to five youngsters who presented an unusually attractive V display. The group included: Johnnie Hudak III, 15 West Terrace avenue, Mary Hudak, 15 West Terrace avenue, Jane Gwin, 33 Terrace avenue, Bobby Gwin, 33 Terrace avenue and Eleanor Jane Debelak, 109 Fulton street.

Four married women, representing a Red Cross unit, received second prize. The women: Mrs. Paul Dominick, 15 West Cherry street, Mrs. Felix Fiorante, 231 South Cedar street, Mrs. Mary Dominick, 233 South Cedar street, and Mrs. Paul DeDario, 210 South Lafayette street.

Mrs. Charles Hennon, R. F. D. No. 3, and Mrs. Alex Rigby, 715 Cumberland avenue, attired as gold dust twins and carrying a standard which read "Buy War Bonds With Your Gold Dust" won third prize.

Lois Crowl, 513 Wildwood avenue, was the fourth prize winner; Mildred Baskeyfield, 215 Weaver street, fifth; Agnes Bistyga, 14 Magee street, sixth; Carmella Micco, 19 High street, seventh; Thomas McConahy, Mahoningtown, R. F. D. No. 7, and Bill Park, 725 Chestnut street, eighth; Eddie Moses and "Chuckie" Bishara, 15 West Long avenue, ninth; Arthur Hartfelder, 917 Lorain avenue, tenth, and Josephine Palumbo, 229 Pearson street, eleventh.

Other winners were:

Jean Kroesen, Tempalena avenue; Bill Carlson, 723 Chestnut street; Billy Roberts, 741 Oak street; Dom DeMarco, 728 Oak street; Richard Voorhees, 736 Oak street; Edward Roberts, 741 Oak street; Phyllis DeAndrea, 1012 Williams street; Arthur Quarella, 922 Warren avenue; Billy Phipps, 112½ South Walnut street.

Patsy Ann Wilkins, Quest street; Caroline Bluedorn, 1203 Cunningham avenue; Audrey Klingensmith, 1119 Cunningham avenue; Nellie Lutton, 307 Fern street; Lynn Gilkey, 308 Fern street; Jimmy Kuzor, 504 Waldo street; Nettie and Mary Ruth and Adela Rigby, R. F. D. No. 2; Frances Janus, 1318 Pennsylvania avenue; Anna Marie Largo, 211 East Reynolds street; Florence Offutt, South Reynolds street; Coletta Rigby, 715 Cumberland avenue; Mrs. Frances Roman, 536 North Cedar street.

Prizes, all stamps, saving the first prize, were donated by the board of trade and co-operating merchants of that district.

Twelve of the awards went to youngsters while the other was won by Mrs. Anna O'Neil, 115 South street.

The lucky 12:

Mary Margaret Brincko, 113 Chartes street; Eleanor Williams, 213 Weaver street; Charles Neiman, 425 East Long avenue; William Joseph, 128 Frank Way; Eugene Rigby, 715 Cumberland avenue.

JOKE ON JAPS

(International News Service)

SEATTLE, Wash.—The whole nation has long been aware of Washington's famous Willapa Harbor oysters. But now there's a laugh—and the joke's on the Japs. They furnish 'em.

The present "Pacific" oyster, cultivated on 5,000 acres of tideland and yielding a harvest of a million bushels a year, was imported in 1928 from Japan.

NAZI DRIVE IN MID-CAUCASUS NOW CHECKED

Semyon Timoshenko's relief army battering the German lines in an effort to lift the siege of the city, broke through the Nazi defenses at one point.

Soviet troops captured a number of heights and valleys northeast of Tuapse, where several German divisions are surrounded and are being "annihilated," a spokesman said.

On another sector inside the city a German battalion, supported by tanks, launched attacks against the Soviet defenders but were repulsed and the Russian troops continued to hold their positions.

In the west Caucasus Russian ski troops recaptured a strategic height northeast of the Black Sea port of Tuapse.

Fighting Is Severe

The high command said that fighting in the mid-Caucasus was severe but that the Soviet units successfully defending their positions against large numbers of Nazi tanks.

On the Kalinin front, 105 miles northwest of Moscow, Red army units were said to have penetrated into an inhabited locality held by the Germans.

Earlier the Red army high command acknowledged that the Germans had recorded a slight gain in the northern factory area of Stalingrad. The Nazis were said to have inched ahead after throwing in fresh divisions of tanks and infantry to advance a distance of 50 to 100 yards on a narrow sector. The feat cost the Nazis 1,500 dead.

But this was the only German advance conceded by Russian sources in a day of bitter, bloody fighting. In the western Caucasus along the Black Sea coast, and in the central Caucasus area around Nalchik ponderous Nazi smashes at the Soviet lines were successfully held in check.

Northwest of Stalingrad Marshal Semyon Timoshenko's army driving against the German left flank for the relief of Stalingrad pushed ahead after fortifying positions gained in recent fighting. On this front a surprise thrust dislodged Rumanian units from an inhabited locality.

In the fight for this town the Rumania is lost 600 dead, said the Moscow radio. On another sector of this front 400 Germnas were slain in a battle which the Red troops recaptured a position.

German dead were piled up in the northern factory area of Stalingrad. In two days' action on this narrow sector the enemy has lost at least 4,500 dead for advances of 200 to 300 yards.

In the attacks on the ruins of the factory buildings the Germans threw a full infantry division and several dozen tanks against the Soviet positions, the communique declared.

The enemy forces investing Stalingrad were reported to include four infantry divisions and two tank divisions—a total force of 80,000 to 90,000 men.

"Throughout Thursday Soviet forces fought the enemy in the area of Stalingrad, northeast of Tuapse and in the area of Nalchik," said the midnight communique. "There were no changes on other fronts.

"Soviet warships in the Baltic Sea sank a 15,000-ton German transport.

Constance Hoffman, 13, sister of Isabel, was rushed to a city hospital where physicians reported her condition as fair.

U. S. Bombers In Action Over Europe

(International News Service)

LONDON, Oct. 30 — American fighter squadrons have gone into action over Europe without support of veteran RAF pilots, an air ministry announcement disclosed today. The U. S. air corps pursuit pilots winged over Belgium to attack canal barges which the Germans are relying upon heavily for transport since continuous bombings have disrupted the railroad systems of occupied Europe.

At the same time RAF bombers, operating singly, smashed important targets in west and northwest Germany and in Holland in a series of widespread daylight raids.

Three RAF bombers failed to return, the air ministry announcement said.

Demands Probe Of U. S. Maritime Commission

By WILLIAM L. UMSTEAD
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—Charging that the U. S. Maritime Commission has "rashly dissipated and misused" public funds, Sen. George Aiken (R) Vt., on Thursday demanded a sweeping congressional investigation to determine whether a complete shakeup of the commission should be ordered.

In a letter to Sen. Walsh (D) Mass., chairman of the senate naval affairs committee, Aiken said that following a one-man inquiry into the commission he had found the agency has permitted "wilful extravagance, incompetent management and looting" in shipyards.

Aiken opposed the proposed promotion of Rear Admiral Emory S. Land, chairman of the maritime commission, to the rank of vice admiral.

The senator, who began his investigation after comptroller-general Lindsay Warren assailed maritime commission deals involving the Tampa, Fla., Shipbuilding Co., and Waterman Steamship Co., charged that:

"1. The U. S. Maritime Commission has paid exorbitant and outrageous prices for old and obsolete ships.

"2. It has paid unwarranted subsidies for construction based on foreign costs long after foreign competition ceased to exist.

". It has paid operating subsidies after foreign competition virtually ceased and even increased the amount of operating subsidies while foreign competition was rapidly decreasing.

"4. It has spent millions of dollars subsidizing ships for private corporations, particularly the Alcoa Steamship Co., owned by the Aluminum Company of America, when these ships were intended primarily to carry the goods of the corporation itself.

"5. It has failed to collect the statutory 3½ per cent interest charge from shipping corporations on secured and miscellaneous accounts constituting an estimated indebtedness of $45,139,824.

"6. It has failed to recover excess profits from shipbuilding corporations.

"7. It has failed to collect 25 per cent down payment on all ships sold although required by law to do so.

"8. It has repurchased ships for sale to the navy, paying the owners for the full amount they had invested without deducting for use of the ships or depreciation, as required by law.

"9. It has been a party to transactions whereby it has sold ships, both completed and under construction, to private corporations, which have thereupon, in accordance with understandings had with the commission before it transferred title resold the same ships to the navy at higher prices which were not justified by increases in value.

"10. It has permitted wilful extravagance, incompetent management and looting to prevail at shipyards holding contracts with the commission for the construction of vessels on a cost-plus-fixed-fee basis."

Wasp Survivor Goes Back In Two Weeks

Marine Sergt. Paluszak, Saved From Sea, Going To West Coast

Marine Sergt. Joseph Paluszak, Jr., New Castle youth aboard the carrier Wasp when she was torpedoed September 15, expects to return to the west coast for duty in two weeks, he told the local marine recruiting sub-station officers today.

He recalled that it was three years ago that he enlisted in the marines. Since then he has traveled far.

With a fellow New Castle fighter, Sailor Steve Pastirak, Paluszak floated around in the South Pacific waters for hours before being rescued.

Kaiser To Speed Huge Cargo Planes

Tells Industrialists Experimental Aircraft To Be Flying In 16 Months

(International News Service)

BOSTON, Oct. 30.—Henry J. Kaiser, west coast shipbuilder, said Thursday that his experimental cargo planes—which will more than double the size of the 70-ton mars constructed by Glenn Martin aircraft—will be flying in 16 months.

He announced that he expects to begin mass construction of the huge aircraft even before the first flying tests are completed.

In Boston to address industrialists at the annual banquet of the associated industries of Massachusetts, Kaiser disclosed that his Oregon Shipbuilding company now is launching 10,500-ton cargo surface ships 23 days after starting work compared with the pre-war accumulated time of more than 200 days a vessel.

"In air cargo, we're now in the same state as in our early shipbuilding days," he said. "The engineering department of Howard Hughes' Aircraft company is making an all-out effort to develop the largest air cargo ship in existence.

"The first of the three experimental planes will be completed in about 13 months, the second in 16 and the third in 22. But the first will not fly; it will undergo static tests—it will be loaded until it fails. Then we'll know what the others can take," Kaiser explained.

"Exclusive hiring through the employment service in specified areas is, in opinion, coming in the near future and government restrictions over the movement of individuals from job to job is going to be necessary."

Outlived Attack By 65 Japanese

San Francisco Marine Home On Leave Before Going Back To "Shoot Rats"

(International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 30.—Home for a brief interlude today before going back to "shoot the rats again" was Pvt. Eugene O. Moore, the San Francisco marine who outlived a vicious attack by 65 Japanese in the opening offensive in the Solomons.

Pvt. Moore surprised his parents and friends. His mother was en-route to the east to visit relatives, but was reached on the train at Elko, Nev., and was speeding back to her son.

"My boy's a son for any man to be proud of," Moore declared as family friends congregated to hear first hand of Eugene's battle.

The marine private was attacked by 75 Japs, kicked, knifed, stabbed with a pitchfork and bounced off the side of a tank in which he had been riding, yet lived to tell the tale.

But strangely enough, the marine never knew until he returned home that the story had been printed in the newspapers. He was shown the stories and pictures flashed across the nation shortly after the Solomons campaign was launched.

'Well, I'll be——" he said. "There were some interviews in the islands, but that was all I knew about any publicity."

His main concern, however, was trying to get in touch with his girl friend.

Pvt. Moore declared that when all his wounds are healed he'll be ready to go back "to shoot some more rats".

OPA Hints To Make Coffee Go Further

Proper Storing And Careful Preparation Gets Most Quality From Coffee

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—With coffee rationing starting at midnight Nov. 28, the OPA today has some helpful hints on how to make coffee go further and still have a cupful of good quality. They are:

1. Use fresh coffee. Buy less each time, and more frequently.
2. Keep your coffee in a tightly sealed covered container.
3. Keep it in the refrigerator or some other cool place. It deteriorates less rapidly when cool.
4. Keep your coffee pot immaculately clean.
5. Have your coffee ground as fine as possible for the pot you intend to use. Finely ground coffee goes further than coarsely ground coffee.
6. Use accurate measurements instead of "heaping tablespoons".
7. Don't boil coffee. It drives off the very elements you want.
8. Serve the coffee as soon as it's made.
9. Make only the exact amount you want to use. "'Left-over coffee is wasted coffee, though it can be stored in the refrigerator for use as flavoring—or for a cup of warmed-over coffee, if you like it that way."

Accidents Costly To War Production

Present Rate Of Lost Mandays Could Build 5,000 Flying Fortresses

(International News Service)

BOSTON, Oct. 30.—Illness and accidents to war workers, if continued at the present rate, will cost the American war effort this year enough time to build 5,000 Flying Fortress bombers, Dr. Victor G. Heiser, medical consultant to the National Association of Manufacturers, disclosed Thursday.

Declaring that 42,600 war workers have been killed, either on or off the job, since Pearl Harbor, Dr. Heiser told a round table conference on health and industry that 11,000 war workers have been killed or injured "on and off the job every day since December 7."

At the present rate of production, he said, this means a loss of 121,000,000 man-days and the equivalent of $1,000,000,000 in wages to war workers by the end of 1942.

Dr. Heiser urged industrial nutrition educational programs and the establishment of plant cafeterias, wherever possible to make available to workers "attractive, varied and inexpensive victory lunches and substantial dinners."

Malnutrition, he declared, has played a "big part" in the loss of war workers through illness and even through illness and even some accidents.

Among curious wills is that of Meinherr von Kole, of Holland, who was an inveterate smoker. He directed that his coffin be lined with boxes of cigars, that his favorite meerschaum pipe be enclosed, and that all who attended the funeral be supplied with pipes and tobacco.

'Poverty Party' At Lakewood For Pro-Indus Marks Halloween Celebration For Club

Pro-Indus club members held a most successful party on Thursday evening, at the Lakewood Beach pavilion, with upwards of 40 in attendance. James Messner and E. H Browning were co-chairman of the event.

Taking the form of a 'poverty party' the group present looked pretty shaggy and neglected, but that didn't interfere with the spirit of having fun. A round of rollicking contests were in progress at an early hours, with prizes going to Kenneth Lockhart, Glenn Myers, Mrs. Kenneth Beer and Mrs. Joe Booth. For the outstanding costumes, prizes were presented to Mrs. Glenn Myers, Jack Thomas, Joe Booth and Sam Blight.

Lunch was served as the concluding feature, the menu being prepared by Mrs. James Messner, with Mrs. Browning and Mrs. Earl Miller, aiding.

GROWERS USE CONTROL FOR SHEEP TROUBLES

For a number of years sheep growers in the fleece-wool states have been faced with the problem of maintaining healthy flocks. A considerable loss is suffered each year in this area from internal parasites. The parasitic infestation is especially heavy during a rainy season, such as the one this year.

Several treatments have been developed that would eliminate the ordinary stomach worm, but the nodular worm has been more difficult to control. The upper part of the intestines of sheep is used for surgical sutures, and the nodular worm has made many of these unfit for such use.

Phenothiazine is a compartively new treatment coming to the attention of sheepmen. This treatment shows promise of being more effective against nodular worms than some of the previous anthelmintics. The treatment for ewes already infested with nodular disease will not change the condition of the intestines of those particular sheep, but it will aid in the control of these parasites which might later be picked up in lambs and cause the same intestinal condition there.

Phenothiazine is on the market in three forms—as a capsule, as a drench, and as a powder. The ewe flock should have one treatment this fall and the second treatment next spring after the lambs are dropped and the ewes are shorn.

SEEK INCREASED PORK PRODUCTION IN 1943

On top of the record pig crop of this year, an increase of 10 per cent in sows to farrow next spring is requested in the Food-for-Freedom program, and in addition 10 pounds more weight on each hog marketed in 1943 over the market weight of hogs this year is desired.

Since Pennsylvania is a large producer of dairy and poultry products, it is conceded that a large part of the war effort on farms in this state should be to increase these products. Also, the big increase in pork production will come in the Central West states.

With these facts in mind, the goal set for Pennsylvania farmers is a 5 per cent increase in spring pig farrowing.

Now is the time to plan for the increase in the spring crop, since sows bred during the next two months will farrow the 1943 spring pig crop.

Transportation and slaughtering facilities again will be taxed to the utmost to handle the larger crop of pigs in the fall of 1943, and it is important that as many pigs as possible be farrowed early in the spring so that they can be brought to market weight early in the fall and thus get in ahead of the congestion. To get these early-farrowed pigs it is urgent that sows to raise these spring pigs be bred as soon as possible.

ADJUST FARM MACHINERY FOR BEST PERFORMANCE

A group of farmers recently assembled one morning in a northern tier Pennsylvania county to see what the farm machinery demonstrator from the Pennsylvania State college could do with a balky corn harvester.

The meeting had been called by the local county agent and every interested person was welcome. The neighbors knew that the machine in question had never given satisfaction in the 12 years it had been out of the factory. It failed to tie, would not cut right, and sometimes locked the bull wheel. Each year the farmer had tried the harvester and then had to resort to hand work with a knife.

R. J. McCall, extension agricultural engineer, was supplying the information at the meeting. He found that all that was originally the matter was that the needle was advanced two notches too fast. In trying to overcome the trouble wrong adjustments were made by local persons trying to help that, and they threw out several other working relationships. After the needle had been timed correctly and the remainder of the binder head had been adjusted, the machine quit pulling out cornstalks instead of cutting them. Stopping at the farm that afternoon following another demonstration, McCall was told by the farmer that he had cut two loads of silage corn without a miss and it was in the silo.

CLEAN UP GARDEN TRASH TO CURB PLANT DISEASE

If you cannot practice at least a 2-year rotation in your vegetable garden, clean up all plant trash now and burn it. Where rotation can be practiced, organic matter can be conserved by plowing under all such trash instead of burning.

One of the chief reasons for the clean-up is that fungi and bacteria which cause fruit rots and leaf blights on vegetables live over winter on plant debris. Destruction of the plant parts also destroys the disease-causing organisms.

The wet weather of the past season favored the development of many vegetable diseases in commercial fields and home gardens. Especially severe were tomato leaf blights which caused early defoliation of plants; celery leaf blights; bean anthracnose which causes sunken brown spots on pods; the white, moldy, downy mildew on lima beans; and leaf blight which made corn leaves look as if they had been killed by frost.

While clean-up and rotation alone will not completely control these vegetable diseases, they are the best steps this fall toward disease-free vegetables in 1943.

FALL AND WINTER CHICKS NEED HOUSING AND SPACE

Fall and winter brooded chicks, whether grown for meat or as potential egg producers, must be surrounded with the kind of conditions that will promote growth and health.

On most farms they will, of necessity, be confined to the house throughout their lives. They will be brooded during a period when the thermometer is dropping; in fact, in many cases during periods of intense cold. Therefore, the house should be sufficiently well constructed to be free from drafts. This means tight floors, walls and roof. The front should be constructed to provide restricted ventilation, particularly for young chicks in cold weather.

The amount of floor space may affect the rate of growth. Crowding may cause poor, uneven growth and induce cannibalism and such trouble as cocidiosis.

Chicks brooded in late winter and in the spring increase in size as the weather improves. Extra space becomes available when they can get outdoors. On the other hand, fewer chicks should be brooded together in the fall and winter, and floor space must be allowed to provide for the increased growth since only house space is available.

For complete confinement, it is advisable to allow one-half square foot of floor space per chick. This means that no more than 250 chicks should be started in a house 10 by 12 feet in size. As the chicks grow older the floor space should increase in proportion to their size. Obviously, if they are kept until laying age or roaster weight, the floor space should be increased to somewhere near adult fowl requirements, or 3½ to 4 square feet per bird.

FEED BEES THAT HAVE FOOD NEED THIS FALL

Many colonies of bees are reported to be short of satisfactory honey for their own needs. Such bees will need feeding to prevent starvation.

Sugar syrup is recommended as the best substance for fall feeding of the bees. The beekeeper will have to register with his local rationing board as an industrial user of sugar. He should state the number of colonies and the quantity of sugar required.

The sugar syrup is made by using 2½ parts of sugar to 1 part of water and heating until it comes to the boiling point or all the crystals are dissolved. Complete information can be obtained from the Agricultural Extension office, 206 Post Office building, New Castle.

New Process For Coating Steel Plates With Tin

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 30.—Development of a new process for coating steel plates with tin, with the use of high frequency radio waves, was announced here today by Westinghouse research laboratories.

The radio waves save tin and speed up the process of tin-plating at least ten times faster than the methods hitherto employed.

Tin being scarce, the new method is of great practical importance. Food for the armed forces is stored in "tin containers", really steel containers with tin plating.

Milton Parker Vore, 28-year-old California radio engineer, devised the new radio waves apparatus for tinplating.

Essentially the process consists in radio waves, very much like the sort used in transoceanic broadcasting, coiling themselves around rolls of steel sprinkled over with granules of tin.

The radio waves tear out metallic electrons, and so heat up the steel rolls rapidly. The tin melts and fuses with the steel with amazing rapidity and smoothness.

Test Case Upholds 1938 Firearms Act

Drastic Law Interpreted For First Time By Circuit Court Of Appeals

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 30.—The third U. S. circuit court of appeals upheld on Thursday the constitutionality of the federal firearms act of 1938, which makes it an offense for any previously convicted felon to possess a gun that has passed across a state border.

The law, which became effective June 30, 1938, is one of the most drastic on the federal books. The circuit court ruling Thursday is the first interpretation by any high U. S. court.

The court established that mere possession of such a weapon is "presumptive" evidence that the owner has it illegally and puts the burden on the criminal to show that he is not breaking the law.

Judge Herbert Goodrich pointed out that congress has the legal power to create a "presumption of guilt" in cases involving the conduct of convicted criminals to aid in the suppression of violent crime.

The high court affirmed the conviction and two-year sentence imposed on Frank Tot, New Jersey criminal, for illegal possession of a .32 calibre revolver.

Saboteurs Were Seeking Bomb Sight Secret

By SAUL PETT
(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Oct. 30.—Adolf Hitler also had his eye on the precious Norden bombsight when his high command sent for Herbert Hans Haupt to join a German sabotage party which was preparing to smash America's aluminum production.

The Fuehrer's dual purpose could be found today by piecing togethe isolated but significant bits of testimony presented in the treason trial of six Chicagoans charged with aiding the executed saboteur.

Most recent witness to support this supposition was Frederick Whittock, an employe of a Chicago optical firm manufacturing parts for the amazingly accurate bombsight. Whittock testified that before going to Germany in 1941 young Haupt worked with him for the optical firm, which even then was engaged in this vital war work.

Then there was the testimony of Ernest Peter Burger, one of the two imprisoned members of the eight-man party which reached American shores last June, laden with precise instructions and vast explosives destined for aluminum plants. Burger stated that among orders given them by the master spy-saboteur, Lieut. Walter Kappe, in Germany, was one for Haupt to return to the optical firm and furnish the group "with information".

Both U. S. Attorney J. Albert Woll and Chief Defense Counsel Benedict J. Short declined to draw out Burger on this point. Nevertheless, the objective behind Haupt's special instruction now becomes obvious.

POSTAL REVENUE STILL SOARING

October Receipts Will Hit $23,000; Biggest Tenth Month

All- time October gross receipt highs at New Castle post office will bow to the current October totals, Assistant Postmaster Ira A. Ringer indicated today. He said the month's gross revenue would "approximate $23,000," as compared to $19,581 for the 1941 October.

Actual receipts at closing time Thursday were $21,761, and Ringer estimated that today and Saturday would add "at least $1,200" more.

October will be the biggest revenue month since December, 1941, a holiday month and a star revenue bringer. This coming December, Ringer said, should far exceed the $33,000-odd total of last December.

Postmaster William R. Hanna said war bond sales at the post office were running "very high" for October, but tabulation of totals must wait until Saturday.

McNutt Opposed To Work Restriction

Manpower Chief Contends Man Should Work Where They Choose

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Paul V. McNutt, War Manpower Commission chairman, contended today there should be no restriction of the freedom of men to work where they choose, "unless there is no other way to meet the problem of manpower."

Speaking on the Town Hall of the Air program with three other authorities on the manpower question, McNutt asked that all hiring for war jobs be done through the United States employment service "which will enable us to match men and jobs with full knowledge of the labor supply and job needs".

Only last week, McNutt told the senate military affairs committee that compulsory manpower legislation seemed "inevitable".

Others on the program differed with McNutt.

Roger D. Lapham, employer member of the War Labor Board, contended that compulsory legislation would be needed to solve the war manpower problem. Grenville Clark, chief author of the first selective service act of this war, also favored a comprehensive national service act, while James B. Carey, national secretary of the CIO, demanded first a unified command over the whole field of national material and manpower resources.

Registration Of Women Probable

By EDWIN DARBY
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—President Roosevelt indicated today that a nationwide registration of women may be held to determine the available workers within their ranks for use in the war effort.

The president said no definite decision on compulsory registration of women had been reached but that the matter had been fully discussed in his meeting yesterday with the Labor War Board.

The president conceded that legislation for such a registration would be necessary and that, because of this, if such a registration finally is decided upon, it would not likely be possible before the end of this year.

Mr. Roosevelt emphasized that the nation is all right at present in its manpower needs, but that a survey of available women for jobs in war plants was considered necessary to meet future needs.

New Castle Aims To Kayo Last WPIAL Foe

Unbeaten Localites Face Scott Tonight At Taggart Stadium

"Scotties" Last Barrier Leading To Possible Class AA WPIAL Championship—Bridenbaughmen Primed To Smash Down Eighth Opponent—New Castle Hopes Hinge Mainly On Lee's Grid Magic—Kickoff Time Is 8 O'Clock—Croton School Baton Twirlers To Entertain At Half Time.

Power-laden New Castle high aims to thrust aside the last hindrance leading to a possible Class AA WPIAL championship when the unquered 'Canes match football skill with Scott high of North Braddock, tonight at 8, on Taggart stadium field.

The locals will ramble along the chalk stripes sporting a record of six victories, four of them gained against WPIAL opposition, and a 13-13 tie. The Pittsburgh district club has captured four decisions, suffered two setbacks and was tied once.

Despite a somewhat spotty record, the "Scotties" still rank as major scholastic opponents and are given an outside chance of thwarting Bob "General" Lee and rolling to a surprise victory.

Veteran-Studded Team

The visitors, their personnel veteran-studded all the way down the line, have been looking forward to tonight's conflict since last season when the locals splashed through a muddy field to a 19-0 edge.

Pittsburgh operatives are not hiding the fact that the "Scotties" are in superb physical shape. Mentally, the invaders have been repeating "beat New Castle" so many times that the phrase has been preying upon their minds.

Scott, which averages about 165 pounds, cleverly uses a single wing attack. Reverses and spin-bucks, not to mention an always dangerous skyway raid, feature the visitors' attack. Their long suit is team spirit, an essential part of a good aggregation.

Captain Francis Dedo, who carries the label of a one-man line, is the key performer. From his left guard port, Dedo performs with rare savvy. Vasco, Kruel, Burke and Maniccia, holders from '41, comprise a talented backfield, headed by Krul.

Lee Key Man

New Castle's hopes of victory once again rest upon the shoulders of Lee, who is strictly like an apparition. His excursions across the gridiron have earned the colored star accolades from all over Pennsylvania as well as bordering states.

From his left half post, Lee does most of the ball handling, all the punting, passing, executes the exacting duties that are attached to the safety man's job. In addition, he lugs the wind-jammed leather beautifully.

He has a couple of able mates in Russ "Ranger" Currie, a human deer, and Jesse Gunn, a fullback who leaves little to be desired. Currie's steaming runs around and insert nerve-rattling thrills while Gunn's timely bucks through the heart of the line are a treat to watch.

Add the names of Pete Tedesko, an accurate blocker, and a big line manned by, left to right, John Zubkowsky, Mike Roussos, Joe Joseph, Dave Genkinger, Tom Sanfilippo, Tony Razzano and Harvey Burris, and you have a fair idea regarding New Castle's varsity troupe.

In tight spots, Coach Bridenbaugh's pupils are prepared to shoot something new.

Physically, New Castle is set to meet the challenge. Mentally, the boys do not seem to be overconfident. They have no reason to assume this frame of mind.

Unusual Band Show

Director Joe Replogle, of the New Castle high band, has prepared what looms as the top exhibition of the season.

During the half recess, the Croton school twirlers come back for an encore. Football fans will recall the Navy performance put on by the group last year. Christina Giancotti taught the youngsters the art of twirling. Miss Leona Sankey and Miss Dorothy Patch have instructed the group for tonight's performance.

The first part of the program features the twirlers in "Johnny Doughboy Found A Rose in Ireland," the band outlining a shamrock and the twirlers representing a rose inside this shamrock.

Following this, the band will outline a high bubble pipe and to the tunes of "I'm Forever Blowing Bubbles" and "Till We Meet Again" the twirlers will float out of the pipe and around front where Jean Tribby will be featured in a flag twirling stunt.

The band will then reform and Betty Lou Hall will step to the front to the strains of the stirring march by Sousa, "Hands Across the Sea."

The Alma Mater and Swing Cheer will conclude the program.

RIFLE SHOOT TONIGHT

The members of the New Castle Rifle club will shoot a Penn-Ohio league match tonight at the Cathedral range.

STAR OF WEEK

Bob Steuber

"Give it to Steuber!"

Missouri does, and up comes another score.

Bob Steuber, 195-pound halfback on the Missouri team, leading scorer in the collegiate world and the nation's leading groundgainer last year, is being hailed as the star of the week following a spectacular game against Iowa State in which the blond speed demon racked up 20 more points to boost his total to 85 in six games.

Against the Cyclones, Steuber raced 57 yards for one touchdown, 16 for another and bucked the line for the third. He averaged over nine yards a crack with the ball and threw a touchdown pass. The week before, against Kansas State, Steuber scored four touchdowns, three of them on dashes of 77, 35 and 44 yards.

A senior now, Steuber began his grid career at Missouri as an end. He shifted to halfback last year.

A track star in the spring, Steuber can run the 100 under 10 seconds. He utilizes his speed in outdistancing his tacklers on the gridiron.

Pennsy Hunting Season To Begin 9 A. M. Saturday

Over 500,000 Nimrodians Ready To Start Small Game Campaign

SEASON TO CLOSE SATURDAY, NOV. 28

By WILLIAM BROCKMAN
(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Oct. 30.—More than 500,000 Pennsylvania hunters today completed preparations for tomorrow's opening of the small game season.

Hunting prospects were reported encouraging, with the game supply up to normal in most sections of the state, by Seth Gordon, executive director of the state game commission. The season will get underway at 9 a. m.

The general small game season, which closes November 28, permits the shooting of ruffed grouse, bobwhite quail, wild turkey, ringneck pheasants, squirrels and rabbits.

Snowshoe rabbits and Hungarian partridges are legal quarry only until November 14, Gordon pointed out. The Hungarian partridges, he added, may be hunted only in Cumberland and Franklin counties.

Although the initial number of nimrods was expected to be "quite smaller" than the 685,000 licensed last year, the state revenue department indicated that the number would grow as the season progressed.

Favorable Season Forecast

"Reports from various sections of the state seem to forecast a favorable season, for the game supply is generally up to normal and larger than usual in some counties," Gordon said.

As ammunition is at a premium, the commission urged all hunters to conserve it as much as possible. At the same time, hunters were urged to collect scrap metal found lying in the fields.

Warning that "every man is needed on the home front and every accident will mean a curtailment of the war effort," Ross L. Leffler, president of the commission, emphasized also the importance of exercising extreme caution this year.

"We have more at stake today than we ever had before—our freedom, our homes, our very existence—and if we forget that stake for even one moment and through some act of carelessness or indifference cause injury to ourselves or brother hunter, we will be guilty of violating a sacred trust," Leffler declared.

Cautioning hunters against concentrating in small areas or hunting in parties of more than five, Leffler urged that "every man should wear red and be absolutely sure he is shooting at legal game before he pulls the trigger."

On receiving his son's negative reply, Col. Little said:

"Well, I was just telling you your draft board had sent notice you were up for possible re-classification."

Little now is in 3-A.

And now the main things: wear plenty of red, keep your gun on safety and crawl beneath, not over fences with the barrel pointed in front of you and not toward anyone else. Law prohibits transportation of loaded guns in autos.

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Oct. 30 — Coach Grover C. Washabaugh and his squad of Westminster college Titans left here at 8 o'clock this morning for Huntington where they will meet the Juniata Indians in a grid battle tomorrow afternoon.

Traveling in six automobiles, the Westminster road squad, in addition to Coach Washabaugh consisted of Assistant Coach Dave Boyd, 28 players and two managers.

The Titans planned to have a brief stop at Ebensburg for dinner today before proceeding on to Huntington where they will stay tonight in the Hotel Huntington. A brief practice session was planned for this afternoon to familiarize the local gridders with the Juniata field and work out the travel kinks.

Coach Washabaugh will depend on his veteran starting eleven which has begun most of the season's games. In the line will be Mattocks and Ossoff at ends, Horton and Reed at tackles, Schumm and Evanoff at guard positions, and Glass at center.

Starters in the Titan backfield will be Dick Newton at fullback, Myer at left halfback and Scheid at right half, and Joe Mastro at the quarterback slot.

Westminster will oppose a Juniata team that is yet undefeated this season, with victories over Drexel and Susquehanna. Last year, The Blue and White scored a 27-12 triumph over the Indians.

Louis Rated Tops By NBA

Boxers Serving Armed Forces To Receive Special "Honorary Division"

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—Boxers in the service will be placed in a special "honorary division" and ratings in the future will be made on a basis of a fighter's active performances, said President Abe J. Greene of the National Boxing Association, as that body's final list of ratings, based on the pre-war system was released today.

Greene added that in the near future plans would be completed for "duration champions and contenders."

The new ratings will be based on the N.B.A.'s announced policy of "freezing" titles of champions now in the service to prevent injustice to these men and to avoid the dictums of individual commissions.

There are no radical changes in the last list of ratings, compiled under the direction of Fred J. Saddy of Milwaukee, chairman of the championship committee.

Only change sees Manuel Ortiz as bantamweight king because of his victory over Lou Salica. Based on contests up till Oct. 19, the ratings still consider Bob Pastor the No. 1 "out-of-service" contender for Sgt. Joe Louis' heavyweight title. Pastor retired from the ring for the duration this week.

N.B.A. List

Melio Bettina, one of the outstanding contenders, is also in the service now while Lee Savold and Tami Mauriello who rank next in line, will settle their rating tonight when they meet in a 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden.

The champions and leading contenders as listed by N.B.A. follow:

Heavyweight champion Joe Louis; Billy Conn and Bob Paster. Light-heavyweight champion Gus Lesnevich. Jimmy Bivins and Ezzard Charles. Middleweight champion Tony Zale. George Abrams, Tony (Cianciola) Martin, Nate Bolden. Welterweight champion Freddie (Red) Cochrane. Ray Robinson, Fritzie Zivic, Henry Armstrong, Marty Servo, California Jackie Wilson. Lightweight champion Sammy Angott, Allied Stolz and Tippy Larkin. Featherweight champion Pittsburgh Jackie Wilson, Chalky Wright, Willie Pep, Charlie (Klulu) Costantino, Mike Raffa. Bantamweight champion Manuel Ortiz. Kui Kong Young. Flyweight champion Little Dado. Jackie Patterson and Peter Kane.

Grove City Meets Slippery Rock On Saturday

Game Will Be Played At Slippery Rock—Close Contest Is Seen

(Special To The News)

GROVE CITY, Oct. 30.—Coach Charlie Ruffner looked at three possible replacements for the injured Red Nugent, triple-threat Grove City back, in a long scrimmage session yesterday and has yet to decide who will start at the vacant left halfback post at Slippery Rock Saturday. The Grover ace has not responded to treatment for an injured leg, and will definitely not be in uniform Saturday against the Rockets.

To relieve the situation, Tackle Bob Hutchison reported for practice Wednesday, but was kept out of the rough work to protect his injured leg. The Butler senior has been an "iron man" performer for Grove City since his freshman year, and his return to action has bolstered the Crimson hopes of breaking a seven-year Slippery Rock jinx.

Coach Ruffner is trying in Nugent's spot Bob Whitehill, Aliquippa sophomore; Eddie Olmes of Titusville, brother of the regular right halfback, and Tom Kennedy, Boyers sophomore. No matter who draws the assignment, the Crimson backfield will consist of three boys who are playing their first season at that position. Only Major Olmes has had prior backfield experience. Coach Ruffner will stand pat on the line that performed capably at Allegheny last week.

It has been eight years since the Grovers turned in a victory over their backyard rivals, but the margin has never been great. Last year's Grover team held the Rockets to a scoreless tie, and the squad had high hopes for this season, but the loss of Nugent's offensive speed and power, and his defensive ability will make the job difficult.

Favor Mauriello Over Lee Savold

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Tami Mauriello of New York rules a 7 to 5 choice over Lee Savold, Des Moines for their ten round bout at Madison Square Garden tonight.

The fight will prove nothing more than which of the young men is entitled to the higher rating in the anaemic struggle for glory as the outstanding "out-of-service" heavyweight.

Mauriello will be making his third appearance in the Garden and is favored because he held Bob Pastor to a draw and then was the victim of a disputed decision against Jimmy Bivins, colored Cleveland clouter.

McCARTHY PEER

Joe McCarthy is the only manager to win pennants in both major leagues. In addition he won a couple in the American Association.

FAIR OR FOUL

By LAWTON CARVER
INS Sports Editor

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—The war has curtailed most sports, has given us meatless days and cuffless pants and has scattered citizens all over the face of the globe with a gun in their hands, but it hasn't diminished the hopes of the track addicts for a four-minute mile as they look ahead to another indoor season on the boards. The followers of track are now enjoying their perennial dream that somebody is about to clip those precious seconds off the mile time to bring it down to even figures—four minutes flat.

That's the equivalent of a baseball player hitting a hundred home runs in a season, a heavyweight champion knocking out every opponent in one round, a golfer breaking the course record every time he starts, and you can go on from there and build your own fantasy.

Track Superman?

However, and this is what I was trying to get around to, the track addicts dream with a peculiar conviction now that the four-minute mile is about to be reeled off on some American indoor track this winter. We're about to see, according to them and the records, the fastest and best man from a mile through three miles that ever left a trail of smoke behind. He shattered 10 seconds this year.

His name is Gunder Hagg. He's from Sweden He's coming over late in December to begin running in February and he's going to be a startling thing to our latter day track addicts who have been watching stock Cunningham, Dodds and Rice and rugged MacMitchell, and others of like power in the torso and limbs.

The Swede is a skinny, six-foot, 150-pounder and strictly an apparition, according to our muscle standards.

"Don't pay any attention to his size; there's a possibility that he will surprise the world with a four-minute mile in our indoor meets," said Dan Ferris, secretary-treasurer of the National A.A.U., today as he discussed what probably will be the greatest track box office attraction in this country since Paavo Nurmi.

"There is no question as to whether his performances are bonifide and he looks like the greatest thing that has come along," Ferris said.

Has 10 Records

Ferris has all 10 of Hagg's records duly filed in his office—all 10 of them including a mile in 4:05.02 in July and a mile in 4:04.6 in September. The latter approached by fractions the paced mile in 4:04.4 run by Glenn Cunningham and generally regarded as the fastest ever, although not eligible for the records because it was paced instead of competitive.

"He's a better man than Nurmi at all distances," Ferris said, "and his record proves it. He has made it all the more impressive by breaking some of his own records."

If the Swede gets himself acclaimed and can run under American conditions there is no telling what he will do to our American runners, although somehow foreign competitors haven't always been balls of fire. This one seems to have it.

Gil Dodds, a 4:08 miler, and Greg Rice, two and three-mile superlative, will probably offer him his chief contention.

New Dodger Boss To Assume Charge Start Of November

Rickey, 61, Accepts One Of Most Lucrative Posts In Major Loops

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Branch Rickey, since 1918 a St. Louis Cardinal executive, has been named successor to Larry MacPhail as head of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Rickey has signed a five-year contract which begins November 1 and which installs him as president and general manager of the club—the same titles held by MacPhail, who after five seasons resigned recently to enter the army.

Officials did not reveal financial terms of the contract, but it was understood to be one of the most lucrative in the major leagues. Rickey reportedly was paid $50,000 annually plus a bonus based on profits, by the St. Louis organization.

Generally credited with being the originator of the farm system in baseball, Rickey produced six pennant-winners, including this year's world championship team at St. Louis.

He has been operating on a five-year contract which expires on December 31, but he had been given permission to negotiate with the Dodgers when MacPhail resigned.

No Definite Plans

Rickey had no definite plans to announce now and said he has "not given any thought" to the question of team management.

Thus Leo Durocher tentatively remains as manager, although he has revealed he probably will enter the Navy.

As vice president and general manager at St. Louis, Rickey built up one of baseball's outstanding farm systems—the famed Cardinal "chain gang"—and was a noteworthy trader of talent.

His new duties entail the handling of the Dodgers and their affiliates and maintenance of the financial stability brought to Brooklyn by MacPhail.

Rickey joined the Cardinals in 1918 as president, later became field manager of the team, and in 1925 took over as vice president and general manager. He will be 61 years old in December.

CADETS FAVORED TO DEFEAT PENN

Army Two And Three Deep In Vets; Owls To Play First Daylight Game

By JOHN PAGET
(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Oct. 30 — The Army and Pennsylvania will play their fourth football tilt since 1901 at Franklin field in Philadelphia Saturday with the Cadets the favorite to top George Munger's Red and Blue, according to the best dope available today.

Two and three deep in veterans and new material with varsity ability, the Cadets have what Pennsylvania scouts regard, and what coaches who have opposed Army believe, one of the best-rounded squads in recent West Point history. In addition to Hank Mazur, the Cadets have some freshman with previous experience in college football, plus Red Jarrell, Ralph Hill and George Troxell, all backfield standouts.

At Full Strength

Munger hopes his squad will be at full strength, including Herb Nelson, veteran end, who was injured in the Princeton game, and Don Bitler, who was hurt more than three weeks ago.

The Penn mentor hoped to start Dick Martin at quarterback, Bob Odell on the tailback, either Jackie Welsh or Bill Miller at the wingback post, and Bert Stiff at fullback. Joe Kane, wingback, who missed the first four weeks of practice, may see action, Munger indicated.

In its first game at the start of the century, Army won 25-0. In 1940, when the series was resumed, Pennsylvania tripped the Cadets 48-0 and last year stopped the Army again 14-0.

Temple university's Owls will play their first daylight day Saturday when they tackle the Spartans from Michigan State at Temple stadium.

With the Army and Columbia battling on the same day, Temple officials attempted to persuade Michigan State to play the game tonight to alleviate transportation difficulties, but Spartan Coach Charley Bachman opposed the change. Bachman's opposition probably stemmed from the fact that Michigan State lost the only two night games they played with Temple.

COLUMBUS, O.—A squad of 36 hale and hearty Ohio State Buckeyes were pronounced physically fit today for their clash with Wisconsin tomorrow. Paul Sarringhaus and Bill Durtschi, left halfbacks, have recovered from their injuries, and Dante Lavelli has shown considerable improvement.

Ellwood High Plays New Brighton Tonight

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 30 —When the Ellwood football machine lines up tonight at Lincoln field against New Brighton high school it will mark the final home appearance of Ellwood's stalwart line, with one exception, and several backfield players. Ellwood will end the season next Friday night at Beaver Falls.

It will be the last home game for Houk and Vitkovitch, ends; Ross and Wallis, tackles; Keller and Ottober, guards; and Jack McClintock, Tom Smiley and Luxenburg, backs. Tommy Cartwright, center, will be the only remaining lineman with John Cartwright, Glogowski and Tillia remaining in the backfield.

Ellwood is ready for tonight's game with New Brighton which will begin at 8:15 o'clock. Tom Smiley has just about recovered from a pair of fractured ribs and will alternate at fullback with Agostinelli with the latter to start. Al Conti, regular fullback, has been out of school for several days and will not play in tonight's game.

Jack McClintick and Tillia will alternate at left half, Glogowski will be at right half, and John Cartwrigt will be in his old spot at quarterback. Coach Croft was well pleased with the performance of the Wolverines against Aliquippa in last week's spectacular battle while deploring the "breaks" that let Ellwood fumble the ball after they had taken it to a scoring position time after time. He paid especial tribute to Jack McClintick's long run for a touchdown, which was called back, and regrets the fact that his injured leg had kept him from playing more games.

New Brighton, which has won about half of their games, has a good, fast passing attack that has paved the way for their victories. If Ellwood is to win they will have to stop their air barrage.

Officials for the game will be: McClure, umpire; Richards, referee; and Fawcett, linesman.

The lineup:

Ellwood		New Brighton
Vitkovitch	L. E.	Nemecek
Wallace	L. T.	Simms
Keller	L. G.	Haddox
T Cartwright	C.	Gillespie
Ottober	R. G.	Wilson
Ross	R. T.	Reina
Houk	R. E.	Farrow
J. Cartwright	Q.	Peluso
Glogowski	L. H.	Schwartzel
Tillia	R. H.	Papparodis
Agostinelli	F.	Wurzel

Open Drive To Raise $18,300

United War Funds Campaign Is Being Inaugurated In Ellwood

ELLWOOD RESPONSE WILL BE AWAITED

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 30.—Today Ellwood City opens the United War Fund campaign to raise $18,300 for our fighting allies and our own fighting forces in foreign and local service. Our soldiers, our sailors are now behind the guns. They have just begun to fight. When they sailed away from their home, they left us a trust. That trust is the welfare of their loved ones they left behind, their wives and their children. Army and navy relief is the guardian over those loved ones.

Every wage earner in Ellwood City will want to bring comfort to those families who receive notice—"Missing in Action." Then too, in the world today there are over 6,000,000 men in the "Barbed Wire Legion," soldiers captured by enemy armies. Among that number are those dauntless men of Bataan and Corregidor whom we heralded for their courage when they were so greatly outnumbered.

Your dollars to the United War Fund campaign will help these men obtain good books, cigarettes, candy and games for recreation. For a thousand years free men should stand and uncover when the names of those who fought at Bataan and Corregidor are mentioned.

The story of the need for American help is the same, whether we hear it from Russia, China, Greece or Britain The picture is one of millions homeless, hungry and sick men and women and little children crushed by or fleeing before the waves of barbarian horror that seeks to engulf us all.

We here in Ellwood City are beginning to realize the need for help for those dying on the scorched earth across the sea because our own boys who are helping to form the second front tell us in censored letters of the need for American dollars to help relieve the suffering of our allies and especially the gallant Russians and Chinese.

Anyone who really takes a look at this war must realize that the United War Fund through a national campaign will help to bring a quick end to this war and a victory to the allied nations. There is no pressure in this United War Fund campaign and everyone is giving in the democratic way which is to give as your heart so desires.

To give of our dollars is such a mild hardship, after all, by comparison with what those who fight this war must endure. Read the stories of the survivors of the Wasp and then give freely for freedom and a hurried victory for our fighting allies and our own boys wherever they may be.

LAST RITES FOR MRS. ANNA SHANOR

Irregular Trend In Stock Market

Most Changes Are Small And Trading Continues To Be Slow

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—The stock market maintained its indecisive trend today as dealings were dominated by uncertainty over the Solomons battle.

Most changes were small and trading continued slow.

A feature was provided by strength and activity in air transport shares. American Airlines climbed well over a point and United Airlines did nearly as well.

Twentieth-Century-Fox again stood out in amusements, advancing ⅜ to a new 1942 top of 15⅞. Crucible Steel was another to reach new high ground on a rise of about a point.

Minor changes were the rule elsewhere. Chrysler, General Motors, U. S. Steel, Montgomery Ward, Anaconda, General Electric and Union Pacific registered fractional gains.

A number of stocks held behind minus signs, including Westinghouse, Loew's, U. S. Rubber, American Can, Continental Can, Public Service of N. J. and Pennsylvania R. R.
